Congress Backs President on Firm Stand For Berlin; Democrats Wary of Strength

Tax Evaders Are Targets of Bills

Would Make Evasion Felony; Failure To File State Return a Misdemeanor

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Rockefeller administration placed before both houses of the Legislature today bills calling for severe penalties for income-tax evaders.

The bills, introduced by the rules committees of both houses, would make tax-evasion a felony and willful failure to file an income-tax return a misdemeanor.

GOP Puts Off Youth Court Act

Criticized Law Is Postponed Till '60

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Legislature's Republican leaders decided today to postpone the much-criticized youth court act for another year.

Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino said the GOP high command, at the request of Gov. Rockefeller, had decided against trying to repeal or amend the law.

Strong Repeal Support

Carlino said he would recommend passage of a measure to extend the two-year postponement again, to April 1, 1960, while the Rockefeller Administration studied the statute.

Although there was strong sentiment for repeal, the Legislature was expected to go along.

Two other bills proposing to repeal the law were scrapped. Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell (R-Amsterdam) said he was returning his bill to committee "reluctantly and painfully."

The act, which would provide special treatment for offenders aged 16 through 20, has been under steady fire from judges, newspaper organizations and law enforcement authorities.

Ready for Court Battle

Because of their protests, it was postponed twice since it was enacted in 1956, originally to take effect on April 1, 1957.

Dutchess DAGiven Data for Probing Chiseling on Tolls

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP) — Three toll takers, chiseling at the rate of a couple of dollars a day, have balked the State Bridge Authority of between $4,000 and $5,000 in tolls.

Ernest M. Heppner, vice chairman of the authority, said Monday the racket was worked over a four-year period on the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

He said the toll takers have been fired, and the information turned over here to Dutchess County Dist. Atty. Raymond C. Baratta.

The bridge connects Poughkeepsie and Highland. The toll takers are bonded, but recovery of the losses will await investigation by Baratta's office, Heppner said.

He said the toll takers stole commutation tickets from the bridge office, and later turned them in, pocketing the quarter tolls.

Identities of the toll takers were not made public.

Morhouse Replaces Martin

Governor Names State GOP Chairman to Thruway Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse, a key figure in Gov. Rockefeller's victorious election campaign, has been appointed to the State Thruway Authority.

Rockefeller sent Morhouse's name to the Senate Monday for confirmation. The job pays $17,300 a year.

The appointment restores political control of the Authority to the Republicans.

Morhouse replaces David J. Martin, a Democrat who died in November 1957. Former Democratic Gov. Harriman did not name a successor to Martin for the term ending Jan. 1, 1958.

Col. Clinton B. F. Brill, a Democrat, is Thruway Authority chairman. R. Burdell Bixby, a Republican, is the third member.

The governor's office said Rockefeller did not plan "for the present at least" to designate Morhouse as chairman.

Morhouse, who will be 45 next Saturday, will continue to serve as unpaid chairman of the GOP. He has been chairman since 1954.

In a statement, Morhouse said he hoped he could "make a constructive contribution" to the Authority because of his interest in

GOES TO SENATE

The Assembly passed an amendment to the Social Welfare Law that would authorize welfare officers to place out a child for adoption in a family not residing within New York State. Next action on the measure is up to the Senate.

NO JAIL TERM NOW

Tax evasion now is a misdemeanor. Failure to file a return can result in a variety of fines, but no jail term.

The Republican governor, in a special message to the GOP-controlled Legislature last week, called for strengthened laws against tax evaders and for other measures to fight crime.

Monday night, there were these other legislative developments:

1. The Senate sent to Rockefeller legislation to continue for another year the Temporary State Commission to Study Rents and Rental Conditions. The bill, which had been passed by the Assembly earlier, would continue the 11-year-old commission to July 1, 1960, but trim its membership from 19 to 9.

Lengthens Racing Season

2. Both houses approved a bill to lengthen the harness racing season. The season limits, now April 1-Nov. 15, would be changed to March 20-Nov. 30. The bill was sent to Rockefeller.

3. The Senate approved a million-dollar appropriation to establish a nuclear research center affiliated with the University of Buffalo and Roswell Park Memorial Institute. The proposed center would be self-supporting and non-profit. It would promote uses for nuclear energy by industry and provide training. The bill was sent to the Assembly.

4. The Assembly passed a bill to require employees of firms and stores handling narcotics to be fingerprinted. The measure faces action in the Senate.

Fines, Jail for Drinks

5. Assembly Assembly-approved bill would provide fines of up to $50 or jail terms of up to 5 days for persons who bought a drink in a bar for a minor under 18. Next action on this measure will be in the Senate.

6. A key measure of a program sponsored by the Joint Legislative Committee on Matrimonial and Family Laws was rejected 36-19 in the Senate.

It would have required court registration of all children not living with their natural parents. Sen. Janet Hill Gordon (R-Norwich), chairman of the committee and introducer of the bill, said welfare authorities did not know whether there were 5,000 or 50,000 such children in the state.

Sen. Joseph Zaretski, minority leader, objected that registration would lead to attempts by same welfare agencies to unseat court records of the children.

Goes to Senate

7. The Assembly passed an amendment to the Social Welfare Law that would authorize welfare officers to place out a child for adoption in a family not residing within New York State. Next action on the measure is up to the Senate.

8. Measures were introduced by the rules committees in both houses to authorize the Public Works Department to purchase property in Albany for state parking facilities. The appropriation proposed is $200,000.

TV System Franchise Attacked Financial Return One Criticism

Action of the Kingston Common Council in granting franchise rights to Kingston Cablevision, Inc., to operate an electronic community TV system in the city, is being attacked by James W. Harper, 62 Hurley Avenue, through a taxpayers action in Supreme Court.

Harper, represented by Arthur B. Ewig, in his complaint contends that the action of the common council on January 6, 1959, granting Kingston Cablevision, Inc., the right to install and operate the TV service was done in violation of Section 23 of the General City Law, that no public hearings were held and that the city failed to dispose of the franchise at public auction and thereby "failed to obtain maximum financial return" for the value of the franchise.

Criticism on Records

It is further alleged that the city "failed to provide access to records of transactions of said bodies and individuals and failed to maintain same as public records as required." In effect the complaint alleges that the franchise was disposed of without public notice and that as a result the franchise was disposed of at a figure far less than might have been secured had there been an opportunity for others to submit competitive bids for the franchise.

Harper seeks to restrain the city from permitting the work to proceed pending determination of the matter.

Order Signed

Justice William Deckelman has signed a show cause order, returnable at Albany on March 30, why an order should not be made and entered staying and enjoining defendants from proceeding with the installation of the system pending trial of the action.

The show cause order of Justice Deckelman contains a temporary stay, halting any action by defendants pending argument.

Nasser, Khrushy Trade Blame for M-E Trouble

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The fight between Gamal Abdel Nasser and Nikita Khrushchev was out in the open today after a bitter exchange of words in the struggle for control of Iraq.

The Soviet premier and the president of the United Arab Republic for the first time pulled off the wraps and accused each other of fomenting trouble in the Middle East.

Warned of Failure

Khrushchev accused Nasser of stirring up trouble in Iraq in an attempt to overthrow the Communist-influenced regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassim.

He proclaimed the Soviet Union on the side of Kassim and warned Nasser that his new policy of attacking communism was "doomed to failure."

Brett Assails School Heads on No. 4 Blaze

The recent incident of an unreported fire in a waste basket at School No. 4, 229 Delaware Avenue, spurred Fire Chief James M. Brett today to a demand that parents become more concerned with their children's safety in city schools.

In a statement, released today to newsmen, which the chief described as "the hour of decision," Brett assailed the handling of the incident by school authorities as another example of "arrogant and haughty disdain" of any advice from recognized fire authorities.

Obviously angered that the incident was not reported, Chief Brett said his "hour of decision" appeal stemmed from this sequence of events:

A fire was started on March 10 at 12:45 p. m. by a young girl student whose name Chief Brett withheld, in the girls' lavatory on the second floor.

"This fire was not reported to the department, no alarm was sounded in the following day at 6 p. m. that I learned of the incident," the chief said.

"In a routine inspection of schools last fall, several acts of attempted incendiarism were discovered at this school. At the time the names of the perpetrators were obtained following a police department investigation."

"It was explained at the time to both E. H. Van Valkenburgh and Dr. Carl F. Soper, superintendent, the potential danger of unreported incendiarism and the probability of a repetition."

"After learning of the March 10 fire, a police department investigation was requested a probe which substantiated Chief Brett's charge that an alarm was never sounded within the school or a report made to the fire department."

The report indicated that Van Valkenburgh had reported the fire to Dr. Soper that day. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Former MP Clerk Gets Police Post

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today announced appointment of James E. Woods, 54 Hunter Street, as police department clerk.

Created last year by the mayor and police board on suggestion of Lt. Kenneth E. Weidenborner, of the state police, the position was first held by Lewis Kirschner, of 197 Bruyn Avenue.

Kirschner left to accept a position with the local branch of an insurance company and the department operated without a clerk for several weeks until the mayor's recent appointment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Woods, of 66 Hunter Street, the new clerk is a graduate of St. Mary's School and Kingston High School, and a lifelong resident of the city. He was recently discharged from the U. S. Army.

A main qualification for the position, said the mayor, is his 22 months of continuous service as clerk in a military police company.

Summit Meeting Up to Ministers

Warns Nation Will Fight Rather Than Yield Now; Blames Soviet for Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen of both parties today supported President Eisenhower's renewed vow that "we will not retreat one inch from our duty" in Berlin.

But some Democrats questioned his assertion that the United States now has an adequate and effective military establishment able to deter aggression.

Must Lay Groundwork

In his radio-TV broadcast Monday night, the President cautiously opened the door to a summer time summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev — provided foreign ministers somehow lay the advance groundwork.

Immediate congressional reaction, however, centered on his pledge that the United States would fight rather than yield to the Soviet demand that Allied troops leave West Berlin.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said: "I listened intently to the President's speech. I trust that his judgment of the situation is correct."

Halleck Lauds Talk

The reaction of House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana was typical of Republicans. "The President's speech demonstrates his full realization of the situation and the kind of leadership we need."

Rep. A. S. J. Carnahan of Missouri, a Democratic critic of the President's statements on United States defense, said: "To hear the President say we are in pretty good military shape, of course, reassuring, but I have some doubt as to whether we are in as strong a position as we should be."

Can't Forsake 2 Million

"We can not try to purchase peace by forsaking two million free people of Berlin," the President told the nation.

He charged the Soviet Union has "deliberately created" a war threat to enforce its Berlin demands, and indicated appeasement would be worse than useless.

Firmness Lessens Threat

"War would become more likely if we gave way and encouraged a rule of terrorism rather than a rule of law and order," he said. "Indeed this is the peace policy which we are striving to carry out throughout the world."

On the other hand, he said, "The risk of war is minimized if we stand firm."

Whatever comes, he said, the American people "now have and will continue to have a modern, effective and adequate military establishment."

In general, Congress members of both parties backed Eisenhower's declaration of firmness in the Berlin situation. Republicans welcomed, and some Democrats challenged, his assessment of the nation's military strength.

Cites Nation's Strength

Eisenhower confidently cited the nation's long-range nuclear bomber force, plus 41 types of missiles either in production or under development, as powerful enough to resist "any communist challenge, despite domestic critics who are urging him to spend more for defense."

Raises to Range From $200-486 for State Employees

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — State employees will receive salary increases ranging from $20 to $486 a year at a cost of $200,000, Gov. Rockefeller and Republican legislative leaders today announced agreement on this program, which will be financed by an appropriation already provided in the 1959-60 budget.

The plan will give state workers slightly more than half of the pay increase advocated by The Civil Service Employees Assn., which represents most of the 90,000 workers. Another smaller group, The Union of Government Workers, claiming a membership of 6,000, asked an annual increase of $350 for each member.

Legislation to carry out the agreement provides that every employee shall receive a pay increase equal to the annual increase of his pay grade or not less than $200. The ceiling of $486 applies to employees receiving $14,800 or more a year. The bills were introduced today.

The method of dividing the $200,000 budget item was developed during conferences with representatives of the Civil Service Employees Assn. All state employees are covered except those in the legislative and judiciary departments.

Rockefeller and the GOP leaders said Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, had indicated he would cooperate in trying to include the increases in all pay checks going to employees after April 1, the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Reaffirms Ties With U. S.: Brandt

Bonn, Britain Like Ike's Talk, Summit Possibility

LONDON (AP) — President Eisenhower's speech on the Berlin crisis and the possibility of a summit conference won a hearty welcome in West Germany and Britain today.

Elsewhere in Western Europe it received top play in the press, although there was no immediate editorial or official reaction.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said the speech "reaffirms our conviction that we can truly count on our American friends."

The British Foreign Office had no formal comment. British officials said privately they regarded it as an excellent speech.

Means to Avoid Showdown Unexplained by Ike's Talk

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The one thing President Eisenhower didn't explain to the nation Monday night is what ideas this country has to offer the Soviet Union to avoid a showdown and perhaps war over Berlin.

He used his nationwide broadcast to restate positions he has already publicly explained — on Berlin and American defenses — but he threw in this: That this country does have new ideas to offer the U.S.S.R.

Ideas Unexplained
He didn't say what they are. Possibly the Western Allies are not yet fully agreed on what to propose. They may achieve such agreement after British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan confers here this week with the President.

These were the familiar, but main, bases Eisenhower touched: 1. He assured the country—despite Democratic criticism that his economy drive will jeopardize American defenses in the future—that those defenses will not only be adequate now but will remain so. 2. He explained why this country is involved in Berlin: That wartime agreements not only give the Allies the right to keep troops in West Berlin but guarantee them free passage of supplies for the troops through Communist East Germany.

Won't Yield
3. He repeated what he has said before: This country won't yield to Soviet demands that the Allies get out of Berlin, and it won't recognize the right of the East Germans to stop supplies for the Allied garrisons in Berlin. Since Berlin is 110 miles inside East Germany, any Allied supplies for the city must pass over East German territory. In the air, by road, or by rail.

Eisenhower led up to the mention of new ideas this way: First, he ruled out any yielding to Soviet demands or threats about Berlin because of obligations to the two million West Berliners, because of principles and agreements involved, and because it would weaken America's world leadership. Second, he acknowledged that any yielding position might mean war, suggested that war would be even more likely if the United States backed up, and said that if war came the Soviets would be in the line. So, he was still unyielding.

Cites One Way
Third, he pointed to negotiations with the Soviets as the one way to avoid a military showdown. Speaking of negotiations, he said: "We are willing to listen to new ideas and are prepared to present others."

Right there he got off the subject of new ideas, leaving the world and Premier Nikita Khrushchev to guess what he had in mind. It must be remembered that Khrushchev has a tremendous stake in the Berlin outcome, too. If the Allies don't back down, and he has to retreat to avoid war, he has suffered a major defeat.

Refuses to Budge
But since Eisenhower refuses to budge on Berlin, or as he says, be a party to any permanent division of Germany, it's hard to see what new ideas he could offer that would satisfy Khrushchev, at least on Berlin.

Previously Eisenhower had brushed off any thought of a summit meeting with Khrushchev, unless first, through a meeting of foreign ministers, there was some reason to think a summit meeting would be useful.

Monday night Eisenhower was still putting a foreign ministers get-together preliminary to a summit meeting.

He said: "Assuming developments justify a summer meeting at the summit, the United States (meaning Eisenhower, himself) would be ready to participate in this further effort."

Omitted Direct Mention
Some may read into that sentence — since it omitted direct mention of a need for advance progress—a softening in his attitude and a greater readiness to meet at the summit even if the foreign ministers accomplished nothing.

But elsewhere in his speech he said: "The United States and its allies stand ready to talk with Soviet representatives at any time and under any circumstances which offer prospects of worthwhile results." That doesn't look like much of a softening.

PROPOSED CATHOLIC CHURCH—Ground will be broken in the spring for the new Our Lady of Lourdes Church at Kerhonkson estimated to cost approximately $125,000 including the nearly five-acre site on Route 209.

More Than $52,000 Pledged For New Kerhonkson Church

More than $52,000 has been pledged since September toward the building program for Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Kerhonkson estimated to cost approximately $125,000 including the 4.9-acre site on Route 209 north of the village.

The mission church of St. Mary's and St. Andrew's Church, Ellenville has been conducting services for the past three years in Kerhonkson Fire Hall, according to the Rev. Laurence Gibney, pastor of the Ellenville Church. The Rev. John L. Cunningham, also of the Ellenville Church conducts the services in the mission church at Kerhonkson.

A new finance drive will begin April 4, the third anniversary of the Kerhonkson Church project.

The sanctuary will be modeled after St. Stanislaus Church, Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County, and will seat over 300. The site with 422 foot frontage on Route 209 extends back on the northerly line 423 feet and on the southerly line 383.5 feet. The rear line of the property extends 672.5 feet, according to a survey of the tract adjacent to the Willow Bungalow Colony.

The land was purchased from Benjamin Goldberg of Kerhonkson.

The mission church serves 186 permanent resident families, 92 summer resident families, and 163 children attend released time

Files Divorce Suit

Against Marlon Brando

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—After a six-month separation from her husband, Marlon Brando, actress Anna Kashfi has filed suit for divorce.

The suit, filed Monday, said the Oscar-winning actor had caused her grievous mental suffering, distress and injury.

Miss Kashfi is vacationing in Hawaii with the couple's 10-month old son. She says she is a full blooded native of India. However, a Welsh factory worker, William Patrick O'Callaghan, says he is her father and she has no Indian blood.

The actress, 24, and Brando, 34, were married Oct. 11, 1957.

EXTRACURRICULAR

It's a big word, extracurricular. It's a big word that embodies a useful approach to improve public school education.

One of the great problems faced by teachers is that of making students want to learn. The problem is to catch and retain their interest to such an extent that they will want to do more than merely get through class assignments.

The great ally of the teacher is that most children have a big curiosity bump and, unless this is changed by a hostile environment, are eager to learn. A good teacher opens doors to learning as fast as children approach them. One of the most effective ways of stimulating the desire to learn, and of opening the doors to greater knowledge, is an extracurricular program.

There is nothing new about this. Creative writing clubs, history clubs, language clubs, after-school science projects and the like have been going on for many years. It is true, however, that as society becomes more complex there are more and more demands on children's time. As a result, extracurricular projects and clubs have suffered in many schools.

Here is an area in which parents can take a hand, not by interfering with the teacher's function but by offering their help and by building up the interest of their children. After-school clubs and activities which are not merely social, which relate directly to the learning experience, can greatly enrich that experience.

A lot of poetry is being written today as a reaction against the rise of science, says the poet John Crowe Ransom. Some critics think some poets might just as well try science.

MECHANIZED MANUSCRIPTS

Some of our observers keep reminding us from time to time that this is, among other things, the Age of Paper.

We write more down than we ever did before, and we keep it. Whatever it is, play safe and file it. The stuff cascades onto desks in a never-ending flood.

There's so much of it that business and government try as much as they can to mechanize their paper operations. A fine idea, except that now and then somebody forgets to turn the machine off.

Ever try to check the flow of material heading your way when a magazine subscription is running out? Ever try to elicit a purely personal response from the impersonal machine that grinds out form letters and punch cards?

No, they haven't taken the confusion out of the Age of Paper. They've just put the neat, impersonal, unthinking stamp of the machine upon that confusion.

Khrushchev's new seven-year economic plan for Russia "is proof of the incomparable superiority of socialism over capitalism," says Communist China's Mao Tse-tung. We'll know more about that in seven years.

HALF A HUNDRED

The arguments against admission of Hawaii as the 50th state in the Union sounded increasingly hollow. This, coupled with the fact that the time was right, sent the statehood bill to the White House in jig time once the issue came to a vote.

Now the arguments against the islands' admission are water under the dam. Hawaii will soon take its rightful place as an equal of the other 49 states.

Time was when those lovely tropical islands seemed very remote. The air age has brought them closer to Washington than distant parts of the mainland were not many years ago. This was when Hawaii's ethnic connections with the Orient made it seem strange to many Americans. Now it is widely understood—and it should become ever more so—that Hawaii may be of great help in building a bridge of under-

THE ATTACK ON LEWIS STRAUSS

Lewis L. Strauss, Secretary of Commerce, appointed by the President while Congress was not in session, comes up for confirmation by the Senate and there is a battle over his appointment. Few men have been as long in public service as devoted to it as Lewis Strauss. He joined the Hoover Commission for the relief of starving people in Belgium during World War I, starting as Herbert Hoover's office boy and working his way up to become one of Mr. Hoover's most trusted and confidential assistants.

The opposition to his present appointment was to have been anticipated and is made of the grosser material that has brought Communists back to Hollywood and forced the State Department to issue passports to Russian agents and Communist spies.

When Lewis Strauss was Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission he made several kinds of enemies. He was in charge of a phase of public life that had, at that moment, to be secret in the national interest. In the course of his chairmanship, the Oppenheimer Case arose. This involved the scientist who with General Leslie Groves was most responsible for the development of the atom bomb. There can be no question but that Dr. Oppenheimer is one of the most brilliant minds in this country and that in connection with the atom bomb, he had performed outstanding services to the country. On the other hand, there were charges that Dr. Oppenheimer had carelessly blabbed to personal friends who were established to be Communists. An inquiry was made into Dr. Oppenheimer's relationships and an investigation was made by a committee headed by Gordon Gray.

Despite all the confusion of evidence, the testimony established that Oppenheimer lied when it made no sense to lie. The Gray Board's report threatened stated:

"19. It was reported that you (Oppenheimer) have consistently denied that you have ever been a member of the Communist Party. It was further reported that you stated to a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1946 that you had a change of mind regarding the policies and politics of the Soviet Union about the time of the signing of the Soviet-German pact in 1939. It was further reported that during 1940 you stated to a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that you had never attended a closed meeting of the Communist Party; and that at the time of the Russo-Finnish War and the subsequent break between Germany and Russia in 1941, you realized the Communist Party infiltration tactics into the alleged anti-Fascist groups and became fed up with the whole thing and lost what little interest you had."

"19. (a) Prior to April, 1942, you had contributed $150 per month to the Communist Party in the San Francisco area, and that the last such payment was apparently made in April, 1942, immediately before your entry into the atomic bomb project."

Lewis Strauss, as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had no alternative but to let his colleague go and it is this act of essential public responsibility which is causing the delay today in his confirmation as Secretary of Commerce. Certain Senators, catering to Leftist groups and antagonistic to Strauss for other reasons, hope to embarrass the President and his Secretary of Commerce.

One of the major difficulties with our system of government is that members of the Cabinet who are responsible to the President must be confirmed by Senators whom they need to please even if public duty and responsibility require that they displease some Senators whose objectives may be of dubious public morality. A public official who is forced to tell a Senator to go to the devil when the aforesaid lawmaker wants something he should not want, must anticipate that the day may come when the Senator in question may hold up a confirmation or in other ways make a nuisance of himself.

When that happens, appointed officials are prone to be silent out of courtesy to the Senate, when actually they ought to kick up a row and let the truth come forth so that all may see what goes on in our government to penalize the competent and efficient and to benefit the sycophant and the fool.

Lewis Strauss is deserving of confirmation as Secretary of Commerce after a noteworthy service on and off for 40 years.

Amebic Dysentery Afflicts People the World Over

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A number of readers have recently asked for another discussion of what is commonly called amebic dysentery.

This is not surprising, since even in the United States about one person in ten is thought to harbor this small animal parasite. It is a much more important health problem in other parts of the world.

Usually the ameba causes difficulty by attacking the digestive tract and causing intermittent dysentery. It can, however, lodge in other parts of the body.

Some times the symptoms come on suddenly and severely with pain and tenderness in the abdomen, blood in the intestinal waste, and even death. One severe complication is abscess of the liver.

Fortunately, many people either never have this severe reaction to the ameba or recover from it and continue to carry the parasites with less severe symptoms. In some, the ameba can be found, but recognizable symptoms are not produced at all.

This constitutes a danger not only to the person who is involved but also to others, since the ameba can be spread by these carriers.

Amebiasis (a more satisfactory name than amebic dysentery) can resemble many other disorders. For this reason its diagnosis depends on identifying amebae under the microscope. Prompt and vigorous treatment is in order.

There are a large number of drugs which are used for this purpose. The aim is to poison the parasites without harming the patient. However, potent drugs must be used, so care in giving them has to be exercised.

One of the most effective drugs is known as emetine hydrochloride. It is given by injection in most severe forms of amebiasis, but is not useful for apparently healthy carriers.

There are other drugs, including some of the antibiotics and drugs containing arsenic or other metals, which also are used, usually by mouth. These again have to be given with great care. The ameba is acquired by swallowing it in food or drink. It is also carried from place to place by flies. Prevention depends on sanitation and eating only uncontaminated food and drink to avoid exposure. Therefore, travel in certain areas of the world, particularly in the tropics or subtropics, carries some special risks.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Principal indoor occupation in Washington these nights is trying to dope out who would make the best secretary of state to succeed John Foster Dulles.

There are no new names involved. And anyway it's worked, it always ends up with some guesser finding something wrong with every name drawn from the hat. It goes like this:

UNDERSECRETARY of State Christian A. Herter—The man first in line for the job. Dulles' own choice as his top assistant. Experienced both as a politician and a diplomat. But not considered as forceful as Dulles and not a creator of new ideas, which are needed. Afflicted with arthritis which at times is a serious handicap on a job that requires long hours and full powers of concentration.

Undersecretary Douglas Dillon—He has come up in the past year, increasingly effective in making and carrying out foreign economic policy. He is younger, which is considered an asset. But his experience is largely in business. He was U. S. ambassador to France for four years. But he is untried in international negotiations of the type coming up to settle the Berlin crisis.

Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy—A skilled career diplomat. He has been in the State Department throughout the Eisenhower administration as chief political officer. He is an experienced trouble shooter. Approaching retirement age, he might end his career with an appointment that would make him the first foreign service officer to be named a cabinet secretary. But such an appointment would not find favor with GOP politicians who want a Republican.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther—Retired from active army service, he is now head of American Red Cross. He is considered thoroughly familiar with the European situation by reason of his experience as chief of staff and commanding general of NATO forces. Experience in other parts of the world limited. And the naming of another general to President Eisenhower's official family would meet with opposition from those who mistrust military authority—particularly at a time when war is not an impossibility.

Ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York—An admittedly able executive and tough courtroom lawyer who might make an excellent negotiator. But he has not been devoting full time to politics for six years and he has little or no experience in foreign affairs. There might not be time for him to learn the workings of the State Department before he would have to meet a crisis. A few Democratic names get tossed into this game, like deuces wild. The principal argument is that a Democrat secretary of state would unite the country behind a nonpartisan foreign policy in time of crisis.

Ex-Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois—He has devoted considerable time to the study of foreign affairs in the last six years and for a time was a State Department consultant. He has ideas. But people who know the governor well fear that he lacks decisiveness and doubt if he could work well with President Eisenhower, whom he criticized severely in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns.

Ex-Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—Out of a job now and looking for something to do. But he is considered too opinionated and his ideas could never be brought into harmony with President Eisenhower's. Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright of Arkansas—He might want to be secretary of state under a Democratic president, but not for a short term under a Republican.

There's another possibility in ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge. He's another younger man with plenty of vigor. He has been dealing with the Russians at U. N. for six years and is more experienced at this than any other candidate. As an ex-senator he has political background. But his abilities as an originator of policy are questioned.

At the end of the game, when the list of other unacceptable candidates has been exhausted, somebody always comes up with the thought, "Well, they might try a woman and what's the matter with Clare Boothe Luce?"

That breaks up the party.

Eisenhower Aid Plea Held 'Keep-Us-Out-of-War' Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If the American people could express in a single sentence their most important wish today, it would be: "keep us out of war at any cost."

Yet, when out of a national budget of 77 billion dollars, the President asks for $3,930,000,000 to keep American boys from fighting abroad, and calls for a "mutual security program" to bolster our allies, this is derided as a "foreign aid" program or a "give-away."

The label is wrong. It's really a "keep-us-out-of-war" program. Few of the critics realize the explosive situation that exists in the world today or how interrelated America's fate is with the other free countries—or, if they do realize it, they fail to see how many billions more our defenses would cost if America had to do the job alone. That's why President Eisenhower's television address Monday night was so important to the country.

'Notice of Weakening'
For the President had no sooner announced last week that he was asking Congress for $3,930,000,000 when from Capitol Hill—mostly from Democrats—came predictions that the expenditure would be cut by a billion. Acting Secretary of State Herter promptly said that if any such reduction were made it would "serve notice on the world that we are weakening in our determination."

Just why some of the legislators regard any money spent abroad as either a gift or a throw-away is hard to understand unless they think the American people really can be misled by such distortions. Certainly as sometimes charged, there's waste in the spending of American funds in other countries because the United States cannot always control how other governments disburse the money they receive. But, conceding that there is some waste, it is a fact that in war itself there is even greater waste. The true test is whether, on the whole, war is prevented, and thus far the United States has managed with the help of strong allies to keep us out of a third world war.

Alles Spending More

It sometimes isn't realized how much America's own allies have been spending since the close of World War II. Rather the impression is fostered by the critics that the United States is putting up all the money for international defense of mutual security. The President in his message a few days ago to Congress said: "Over the years of our combined effort, these allies and friends have spent on these forces some $141 billion, more than six times the $22 billion (Reproduction Rights Reserved)"

Dissenting members of Congress often concede that the military program is logical but they claim the economic support abroad is questionable and this they could cut. In doing so they would strike a blow at the morale of the countries affected. For without economic stability, political chaos ensues, and then the Communists find fertile ground for exploitation or even overthrow of existing governments. The Communist intrusion in Iraq lately, for example, has unsettled the entire Middle East. The Communist tactics in Africa, Asia and Latin America have been supported by Soviet measures in the economic field.

So it's a dangerous international situation which calls for American expenditures to bolster here and abroad our defenses—politically, economically and militarily. From a strong alliance, moreover, comes firmness in a crisis as is the case today when Moscow is testing the West. The President says the West will not surrender. He can say this convincingly because the western alliance in the last ten years has been built on a strong foundation. It is to maintain that strength that the "mutual security program" or what might better be called a "keep-us-out-of-war" program is really directed.

MODENA NEWS

MODENA—The Wesleyan Service Guild met Tuesday evening at the home of Ethel Hyatt, with Alice Lofink in charge of the program.

A review on the book entitled "Crops and Crisis in Japan" was read, the topic being "Rebuilding Our Foundations."

Celia Tice led devotions. Others present were Jean Critics of Ireland's Corners, Muriel Ward and Marie Winters.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 14, 8 p. m., at the home of Celia Tice, north of Modena on the Alhambra Road.

At this time the book study will be omitted, and plans discussed for a spring supper to be held Saturday evening, May 2 at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Muriel Ward was appointed representative of the local unit at a district conference April 11 at Middletown.

Florence Hyatt of Clintondale, treasurer of the local Guild, was not present, but submitted a report.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DuBois of New Paltz are parents of a daughter, Debra Ann, born Sunday, March 8. Mr. DuBois is a former resident of Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Davis of Lloyd were guests of Miss Glennie M. Wager Wednesday.

Mrs. John Scofield of Walden, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hedges to Poughkeepsie and Verbank Sunday where they visited relatives.

Mrs. Robert Roggon of this place was among representatives of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club attending the Legislative Conference of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State, in session at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel at Albany, Monday and Tuesday of last week.

The Modena Hall committee is sponsoring an April Fool's Supper, featuring Virginia baked ham Saturday April 2, from 5:30 to 7 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Albert Molson is chairman of the supper committee. Entertainment chairman is David Winters assisted by Russell Croce.

Tickets at a nominal charge may be obtained from Mrs. Molson, Mrs. Russell Croce and at Wager's store in Modena.

Proceeds will be for the maintenance of the hall. Plattkill Grange degree work will start Saturday evening, March 28, for the first and second degrees and April 11 for third and fourth.

Arline Bernard of this place, a member of the degree team, may be contacted for further information.

Donald McNichols is chairman of a dinner to be sponsored by the Lions Club, Saturday evening, April 18 at the Ireland's Corners Hotel.

Lawyers Oppose Bill to Permit Cameras in Court

NEW YORK (AP) — A lawyer's committee has announced opposition to a pending legislative bill that would relax the ban against photographing, televising or broadcasting on radio any court or administrative agency proceeding.

The opposition was voiced Monday by the Committee on State Legislation of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

The bill would permit the use of cameras and microphones if the presiding judge or agency chairman consented.

The committee said enactment of the measure "may serve to impede the orderly administration of justice."

It also said the bill runs contrary to the American Bar Assn.'s canons of judicial ethics.

The committee noted that the bill does not contain any requirement for permission by the accused in criminal cases or by witnesses in civil actions or governmental agency or committee hearings.

Area Representatives At 4-H Capitol Days

Arlene Ziegler of Flatbush and Douglas Graham of New Paltz represented Ulster County at the annual 4-H Capitol Days in Albany last week.

A boy and girl from each county in the state, accompanied by their 4-H leaders toured the capitol during the two-day session. They met with the governor, attended the legislature and met with their assemblyman and senator.

Search Given Up For Missing Jet

MITCHEL AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. (AP) — The Air Force announced today it had given up after a wide search for an F86 jet fighter which disappeared a week ago.

A spokesman for the Air Force Search and Rescue Center here said there had been "not a trace" of the plane, piloted by 1st Lt. William J. Krieg, 35, of Skaneateles.

He was returning from a National Guard training flight in Florida, and was last heard from when he radioed over Atlantic City, Md., that he planned to land at Suffolk Air Force Base in eastern Long Island.

Most of his route to Suffolk would have been over water. The Air Force said an ocean area extending 150 miles south from Montauk Point, on the eastern tip of the island, had been thoroughly covered by search planes and boats.

The search also covered land areas including all of Long Island, all of New Jersey, and New York as far north as Newburgh.

The center has requested permission from 14th Air Force Headquarters at Robins Air Force Base, Marietta, Ga., to cancel the search permanently, the spokesman said.

Polio Mother Has Baby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Carl Krider, a woman who hasn't walked for 22 years, has a proud smile on her face. So does her husband.

Mrs. Krider, stricken by polio at the age of 7, gave birth to a 5-pound, 14-ounce baby girl, Kathleen Ann Krider Monday.

Doctors said the baby, delivered by Caesarean section, and Mrs. Krider were doing fine. The baby is their first.

Mayor Ashamed, Admits Attack, Robbery Hoax

GREENSBURG, Ind. (AP) — Mayor Sheldon Smith of Greensburg shamefully admitted Monday night he slashed himself with a razor, then invented a story about being cut and robbed by three men.

The 39-year-old mayor said he made up the story "to explain the loss of the money and hide the shame of being taken through one of the oldest confidence games, the pigeon drop."

The missing $7,178 belonged to the city.

Won't Be Prosecuted

When asked for details of the slashing and confidence game, Mayor Smith said, "I'm too ashamed to talk about it."

In the pigeon drop, a confidence man tells his victim he has found a large amount of money and will share it if the victim will put up some money as a show of good faith.

Prosecutor Richard Garvey said the mayor's admission ended the case. He said Smith would not be prosecuted.

Earlier Monday Smith returned the $7,178 and said "moral responsibility" led him to borrow money to repay the city court funds.

Also Serves as Judge

Smith, who also serves as city judge, had accumulated the money since 1957, but had not deposited it. The exact amount was determined in an audit by the state board of accounts.

Garvey said Smith told him he became "so concerned that an innocent person was suffering the loss of freedom that he decided to unveil the mystery."

Smith had identified Forest Hollars, 40, Dayton, Ohio, as one of the three men who attacked him.

Smith's original story was that he had been lured to his private office the night of Feb. 21 on the pretext of filling out an income tax return. He said two of the men held him while the other methodically slashed him with a razor blade.

10 Per Cent More Now Attending Colleges

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — There has been a 10 per cent increase over the past two years in the number of students attending colleges and universities in New York State.

State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said Monday that enrollments in 124 private and 45 public institutions totaled 382,971 last fall. This was 17,449 more than in 1957. There were 348,868 in 1956.

Allen said 148,840 applications for admission directly from high school were processed last fall. Of the 88,415 granted admission, only 50,596 students accepted. He said this reflected the practice of high school seniors applying to several colleges.

Judge James T. Foley of Federal District Court deferred sentencing pending a probation investigation.

Social Security Effective Date Ruling Changed

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced today that he has obtained a reversal of a ruling by the Federal Social Security Administration which had prevented a municipality from changing its effective date of social security coverage.

Because of this reversal, it will now be possible for municipalities which provided less than the maximum retroactive coverage to provide this additional coverage.

The necessary agreements are now being negotiated with the Federal Government and I expect they will be completed in a short time. Despite recent reports to the contrary, the agreements have not been completed and until they are, a municipality cannot change its effective date of coverage. All municipalities which will be affected by the contemplated agreement will be advised by the State Social Security Agency when that agreement has been completed, Levitt concluded.

Reaction Mixed To State Aid in Commuter Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest proposals on state aid to cope with the commuter crisis have met with mixed reactions.

The suggestions came from Robert W. Purcell, director of the State Office of Transportation. He sent them to Gov. Rockefeller Sunday, and the governor said the suggestions will be basis for the transportation program he will submit to the Legislature.

Basically, the Purcell plan calls for:

1. A 20-million-dollar state loan to the Port of New York Authority to buy 400 or more air-conditioned commuter coaches for leasing to the New York Central, Long Island and New Haven Railroads.

2. A gradual program to reduce the railroads' present 44-million-dollar annual state and local tax load by as much as 15 million dollars.

The Central and the New Haven approved the plan. The Long Island Railroad termed it a fine step forward, although scant help for Long Island problems. The Hudson and Manhattan — which operates the Hudson River tubes that link Manhattan and New Jersey — was openly critical.

The Remarkable Story of Wide-Track Wheel Design

*How It Started • How It Works
What this Highly Successful
Pontiac Achievement Means to You*

It all started, as most innovations do, with a problem to be solved.

The problem was that when you turned a corner or rounded a curve your car swayed and everybody aboard leaned with the force of the turn.

Over the past few years car body widths have been increased to give you more passenger room and comfort. But widths between the wheels have not increased proportionately. This between-wheel width is called the "track".

A wide body without a wide track is top-heavy, lacks balance, looks awkward. It's a little like a husky football player, wearing wide shoulder pads and dainty ballet slippers, running with his feet close together.

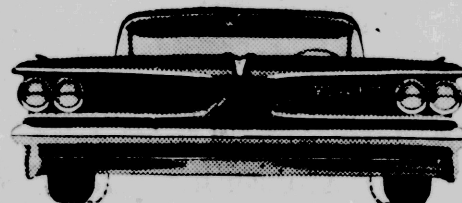

THE SOLUTION

The answer was simply to widen the track to match the body. We moved the wheels five inches farther apart. This widened the stance, but not the car. This was the birth of Wide-Track Wheel design.

You use the same principle and feel a similar effect when you stand erect with your feet spread wide apart. You're braced and steady.

LEAN AND SWAY REDUCED

Our first road tests showed how significantly we had reduced lean and sway. The car held to the turns and curved the curves as had no other car we had ever driven, except for sport cars, which of course are not designed primarily for passenger comfort.

This greater stability gave the driver a noticeably improved feeling of security, control and confidence. All passengers, back and front, rode with less fatigue, more comfort.

OTHER ADVANTAGES

With the wheels farther apart, there was more space in the luggage and engine compartments.

The extra luggage space was certainly welcomed and we found we could easily pack more than 14 good-size suitcases and bags. A lot more than most compartments will take.

The additional space under the hood meant a better circulation of air around the engine and was also welcomed by servicemen and gasoline station attendants who find it tough to work on and around the engines in most cars today.

IMMEDIATE PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE

It usually takes car owners a little time and many miles to be convinced of the merits of many automobile engineering improvements. That's because some improvements are far removed from the car owner's everyday driving experience.

Not so with Wide-Track Wheels. There was an immediate understanding of what we had done and a fast and favorable response to its advantages.

From the first week our dealers began demonstrating the 1959 Pontiac, we knew Wide-Track Wheel design was every bit the accomplishment we had hoped for. People who drove the car told us it was the finest, easiest handling automobile they'd ever been in.

WHO'S BUYING ALL THE NEW PONTIACS?

Pontiac sales, we are happy to report, have confirmed public opinion. This car has apparently captured the imagination of tasteful people who were looking for clean, uncluttered styling. People attracted by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail we give every single Pontiac we build. And, of course, people quick to grasp the remarkable story of Wide-Track Wheel design.

YOUR NEW PONTIAC

Investing in a brand-spanking new automobile, fresh, sweet-smelling and totally different is a wonderful thing to happen to a family in the spring. Wouldn't it do your morale good to become the owner of a gorgeous new Wide-Track Pontiac within the next few weeks?

We are confident it is an automobile in which you will take great pride and from which you will reap much personal satisfaction and enjoyment.

School and Home Burglaries Are Probed by Police

Burglaries at School No. 6, 107 O'Neil Street, and at a Marius Street house were under police probe today.

The School No. 6 burglary was the second one this month in a school building. This time nothing of value was reported missing, but several rooms were ransacked.

A small safe containing between $80 and $90 was taken from School No. 4, lower Delaware Avenue March 4, and a short time before that safes were reported taken from the Lynch Auto Parts building, 39 St. James Street, and one owned by John Wesolowski was taken from a trailer in South Rondout.

The one from the auto parts building was found at Eddyville and the one taken from the trailer was found off Linderman Avenue Extension.

School No. 6 was entered through a door on the Bruyn Avenue side. Seven classrooms and the second-floor office were reported ransacked.

Lawrence A. MacAvoy, of 52 Linderman Avenue, local realtor, notified police late yesterday afternoon that a house at 108 Marius Street, owned by Mrs. Stuart Hutchins, who lives in Connecticut, had been entered and ransacked. Nothing of value was reported missing.

A youth, believed to be 16 or 17 years old was seen running from the building. It was also noted that windows in the building had been damaged by air gun shot and other windows had been soaped.

France May Have Killed Access to Atom Sub Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources said today France may have torpedoed her own bid for access to U.S. atomic submarine secrets by withholding her naval vessels from NATO command.

Although certain French fleet units had been committed to the North Atlantic Treaty command in the event of war, France notified NATO officials last week she had decided to keep the entire Mediterranean fleet under French command.

The sources said privately that decision of the De Gaulle government could prove the clinching argument for denial of the request.

They contended the U.S. atomic energy law specifically provides that to be eligible for sharing such secrets, a nation must be making "substantial contribution to the mutual defense and security" of the free world.

"To withdraw the fleet from the Allied command would scarcely be in line with this provision," said a well-placed congressional source who declined to be quoted by name.

There was no comment from the State Department.

France has asked, under the law, for a share of U.S. atomic submarine secrets and for permission to buy an American-made atomic power plant for such a vessel.

Nasser, Khrushy

clashed hands in hailing the July 14 revolt in Iraq that brought Kassem to power with the assassination of King Faisal and his pro-Western Premier Nuri Said. They joined in proclaiming the revolution a blow at the West.

Revolt Strains Relations

The strain between Khrushchev and Nasser is the result of the abortive revolt in Iraq last week of army officers sympathetic to Nasser's goal of pan-Arab unity. Kassem's government in Baghdad, coming more and more under the influence of the Iraqi Communists, accused Nasser of fomenting the rebellion. Nasser in turn has mounted a steadily rising campaign against Kassem and his Red supporters.

Khrushchev in Moscow accused Nasser of trying to force Iraq to join the United Arab Republic. Nasser called this charge a "distortion of fact because we have always announced that our path is Arab solidarity, and in order to achieve this there must be unanimous Arab approval."

GOP Puts

were drawn for the annual struggle over statewide court reform. Republican leaders looked to the so-called Ervin plan to break a deadlock of several years standing. The plan calls for reorganization of the judicial system with centralized administration under a panel of high-ranking judges. The plan had been scheduled for debate in the Senate today. But Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney said that the legislation was not processed in time and that the vote would have to be put off until tomorrow.

Give Choice to Governor

GOP leaders had considered sending Rockefeller three bills on the youth court and letting him make his choice.

One was the postponement of the repeal of Campbell's bill called for repeal, too, but also would have broadened the current youth-offender law.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market bounced back from Monday's decline in heavy trading early this afternoon. Space age stocks were the pacemakers.

Stocks connected with electronics and missiles were stimulated by President Eisenhower's emphasis in Monday night's speech on missile development.

The more conventional issues also advanced on a broad front in a smart recovery from Monday's sharp loss.

Zenith soared ahead as much as a dozen points then settled back for a net rise of about 8. Gains of more than 3 were posted for Hoffman Electronics and 2 or better for Thiokol, Polaroid and General Tire.

Budd Co. was up about a point. Burroughs gained more than a point.

Higher were an assortment of stocks including Callahan Mining, Avco, American Cable & Radio, and List Industries.

Du Pont jumped 4, U.S. Gypsum over 2. Gains of a point or better were made by U.S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, American Motors, Chrysler, General Dynamics, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge. Anacosta rose more than 2.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

Father, Children Die of Fumes in Own Automobile

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Two children wrote notes to their mother.

Then Gerald Ray Glass kept a log of events of the few minutes preceding the time when he and his children lost consciousness and died of carbon monoxide fumes in the family car.

The notes penciled by Glass said:

"It is now five minutes to eight. The engine is idling and the motor has been on 10 minutes.

"I am beginning to get sleepy. My heart is speeding up and pumping fast.

"My eyes are drooping but otherwise normal.

"We're talking about God and heaven."

Neither friends nor relatives gave a motive for the deaths.

Mrs. Glass said there had been no trouble between her and her husband. They had been married 12 years.

"I just can't believe it's my husband and children," she repeated over and over. "It must be a mistake."

When the bodies were found in a lonely spot near suburban Homewood Monday Glass still clutched the tape which Butler said he had used to bind a garden hose to the car's exhaust and lead it into the car. The carbon monoxide fumes did the rest, Butler added.

Mrs. Glass spent a worried, sleepless night before reporting her family missing Monday morning.

Dep. Coroner James O. Butler ruled that Glass killed his only children—10-year-old Jerry and 8-year-old Arlene—and took his own life Sunday night.

Butler said notes found in the car indicated the 34-year-old air-conditioning company electrician was depressed. He declined to elaborate.

Camillus Attorney Gets State Tax Job

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy today appointed Edward Rook of Camillus as his legal assistant.

The job pays $7,130 annually.

Rook, 29, succeeds Donald Bowes of Troy, who resigned when the Rockefeller administration took over.

Rook is associated with the same law firm in Syracuse that Murphy left to become commissioner.

Murphy also appointed Lynn G. Keyser of Elmira as estate tax attorney for Chemung County and David C. White of Glens Falls as estate tax attorney for Warren County, effective March 26.

They will be paid on a fee basis.

Keyser succeeds James L. Kerwan of Elmira and White succeeds John J. Kenneally of Glens Falls.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Huge family fun centers are abuilding across the nation today to greet the hordes of touring Americans this summer.

They are joining the older forms of such entertainment—the more than 400 traditional amusement parks and the 5,000 small kiddie lands.

Attendance at these two amusement types is estimated to be more than 500 million a year.

The new family recreation centers are hoping to attract from one million to four million visitors a year each, depending on length of their operating seasons.

Patterned in scope after Southern California's Disneyland, each of the new areas now open or rising emphasizes features to stimulate or restore some of the exciting and memorable aspects of local, regional and sometimes national historic lore.

They range in area from 80 to more than 100 acres, with initial investment of from 3 to 10 million dollars.

Included in the new group are fun centers near Boston, Denver, Dallas and Santa Monica, Calif. Here is what this sampling of the movement will offer:

A four million dollar Pleasure Island will open this summer on 80 acres at Wakefield, near Boston, and will stress yesteryear in New England.

Already open near Santa Monica is Pacific Ocean Park. The 10 million dollar development on 28 acres is devoted to a wide variety of marine themes.

The Dallas recreation center is built around the theme: Texas under six flags. Its rides, shows and exhibits will cover the long history of the state's largest state.

Magic Mountain, the Denver amusement center, will be set up to let visiting families participate vicariously in the Old West adventures of the U.S. cavalry, trappers and miners. It will lean heavily on the curiosity of generations brought up on novels, movies, radio and TV versions of frontier life.

Managements of family recreation centers say that theirs aren't the traditional amusement parks of ferris wheels and tunnels of love. They say the design and construction of the new style centers combine showmanship and dramatic talents, adding to the old type amusements new features that have nostalgic appeal to the oldsters and novelty appeal to the youngsters.

Overplay When You Overbid

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

This week's hands seem to illustrate the point that if you overbid you must play the hand well. South really bid his head off. I should say "fool head" but South played the hand like a mighty wise man.

West opened the deuce of trumps. A spade lead would have been far superior but South could still have made the hand if he guessed everything.

The trump lead solved South's first problem. His ace took East's king and his queen left the defense with the high jack of trumps and no other. Now South had to play the diamonds and clubs correctly.

He led ace-king and jack of diamonds and when West played low South discarded a spade from dummy. He had decided that the trump opening indicated diamond strength. The jack held and another diamond was ruffed in dummy with West's queen falling. Now all South had to do was guess the club queen.

West was long in trumps and diamonds so he ought to be short in clubs. South played East for that queen and brought home the bacon. His play had certainly made up for his overbids.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I noticed that at the National Antique Show being held at Madison Square Garden during the first week in March one of the local exhibitors is written up in the New York World-Telegram and Sun of Friday, February 27, 1959. They give a full page to the show which houses some $20,000,000 in arts and antique treasures covering some two acres. Karl F. Wede, of Saugerties, has his British Ship which sailed the seas about 1790, a model of course, on the page of this newspaper. I am sure there are other exhibitors from Ulster County as it is rich in historical items. It would be interesting to know who they are and what they are showing.

It is said that this 350th Anniversary of Hendrik Hudson's discovery of Manhattan Island would be observed at the antique show. It seems that the 250th anniversary of the piano also comes at this time and would be taken into consideration, as well as the 200th celebration of the founding of the Wedgewood pottery industry and the 100th birthday of the A & P grocery chain. They are to have an original A & P horse and wagon shop. Kingston was known for its wagon-makers perhaps some of the old timers will see this exhibit.

She further writes: "My mother and father had both steady and transient boarders. The girls from the American Cigar Co. used to come over for lunch at noontime. Their lunch cost them ten cents. Eleven cents with dessert. There were about thirty or forty who came in every day. I have pictures of the building as it was at the time. William J. Bryan stayed at our place while in Kingston." I am sure the above will be interesting to the many girls who used to work at the American Cigar Co. and others who remember the Grand Central Temperance Hotel run by Ethel Williams' mother and father. This hotel in the 1896 book is listed as Grand Central Hotel, 507 Broadway, with Charles W. Williams, proprietor. Always enjoy receiving mail from Edward Hauptlich Sr. of 25 Browning Terrace, formerly of Albany. He always uses the new stamps on his envelopes to me, this time the new 1 cent Lincoln stamp, and also enclosed many canceled commemorative stamps for which I thank him. Van Olinda's column from the Albany paper is enclosed titled

"Glory That Was the Hudson." He mentions our famous gone but not forgotten Norwich and its outside walking beam. He wrote how it used to tow great fleets of canal boats up and down the river, and during the winter as an ice-breaker.

Weber - Kaufmann
Wedding Announced

The wedding of Miss Alide Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Weber, Rosendale Road, to Walter Kaufmann, Ulster Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Libor Kaufmann, Tifental, Germany, took place February 14, at 2 p. m. in St. Peter's Church, Kingston. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Otermann, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in German.

Traditional wedding selections were played by the organist, Miss Ann Goldrick. Soloist was John Mager.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a sabrina neckline. Her floor length bouffant skirt was fashioned with lace panels and ended in a circular train trimmed with rose buds. A crown of seed pearls and indolent sequins secured her French lily veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with a white orchid center.

Miss Erika Weber served as maid of honor for her sister. She was attired in a gown of pink fashioned with a lace bodice and chiffon skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Helga Helber of Eddyville, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Marianne Heigemeier, Rifton, and Miss Helen Marie Gruenwald, Kingston. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honor's, only in colors of aqua, orchid and blue. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations. Their hats were small headbands with halo veils.

Flower girls were Mary Weber, sister of the bride, and Gesia Heller, cousin of the bride. Mary Weber was attired in a floor length gown of pink net over taffeta, and Gesia Heller wore a floor length gown of white embroidered organza over green taffeta, fashioned with a large bow at the back. Both girls carried nosegays of pink roses and carnations.

Best man for the bridegroom was Heinz Vogt Jr., Kingston. Ushers were John Bruening, Rosendale Road, Gunther Ilgen, Kingston and Franz Heigemeier, Rifton.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Maenncheror Hall for approximately 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaufmann will make their home in Poughkeepsie, where Mr. Kaufmann is employed by the Red Oaks Mill Machine Shop.

Essential for Woman to Have Outside
Interests, Says Leading Designer

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A woman with a job can face whatever fate deals out, says Mollie Parnis, a woman with a job.

For 25 years, Mollie and her husband, Leon J. Livingston, carried on a highly successful dress manufacturing business in New York. Mollie did the designing and Leon handled the business end. One of their most famous customers was Mamie Eisenhower.

Then, not quite a year ago, Mollie walked into her husband's office and found him dead of a heart attack. For Mollie, it seemed the end of the world. This was a closer association than most marriages: not only husband and wife, but also business partners.

So Mollie closed up one of the biggest dress businesses in the country, and stayed home with her grief and her memories.

"I was completely lost," says the attractive, talented designer. "I felt I couldn't go on without Leon, and yet I couldn't find anything to fill up the days when I was not able to work to do. There is nothing worse than waking up in the morning with nobody to talk to and nothing to do."

Mollie Parnis missed only one collection. Now she is back doing business at the old stand, looking her old vital self. She has a new business partner, Adolph Klein, who guided the destinies of the late Claire McCardell, and who is continuing his own manufacturing business while also managing business details for Mollie.

"Life has to go on," says Mollie. "I never realized how lucky I was to have a job until I gave it up. Now that I'm back in business I never want to quit again until they carry me out."

"I think the greatest gift a woman can have is an absorbing interest of her own. It will see her through the rough spots that come in every life. And the saddest thing in the world is a woman with no outside interests, who suddenly becomes a widow. She has spent her life just being a wife, and now she no longer had a job."

RESPONSIBILITY FOR BORROWED BOOKS

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine loaned me a book and said that there was no hurry to return it. When I finished reading it a friend of mine asked me if she could borrow it. As I knew she would take good care of the book, I loaned it to her. One day when this first friend was visiting me she asked if I had read the book. I said that I had and that I had loaned it to a friend of mine who was anxious to read it. She seemed rather put out over this. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

Answer: Yes, because this is exactly the way books get lost.

Soup on the Rocks

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I was at a cocktail party where a bar was set up for nonalcoholic drinking guests, and "soup on the rocks" was one of the drinks. This is a beef broth poured over ice. It was served in an old-fashioned glass and looked very nice, but I am wondering if it is just as proper to serve it in mugs or punch cups?

Answer: Beef consommé poured over ice in an old-fashioned glass is a very nice idea in place of cocktails. I do not think, however, that it would be attractive in mugs or punch cups.

A Bride in Day Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: When a bride is wearing ordinary day clothes and not a wedding dress and veil, is it in good taste for her to have a procession up through the church and out again?

Answer: If the church is very small, the wedding group would properly walk up the aisle. But if the church is very large and its emptiness therefore very conspicuous, it would be better certainly to enter from the chancel. The bride would enter on the arm of her father or whoever is to give her away. If there are no more than very few persons present, she and the bridegroom might possibly walk in together.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her booklet No. 504, entitled "Etiquette of Table Setting," send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Christian Science can make life worth living

Beyond the demands of just "making a living" everyone wants to feel his life has purpose and usefulness. We all encounter this question: "What am I here for?"

Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy shows where the answer lies—in an understanding of what God is, and therefore what man, made in God's likeness, must be.

This book shows the way to satisfaction, health and abundance as we learn how to live according to the teachings of Christ Jesus.

Science and Health may be read or borrowed at any Christian Science Reading Room. Send $3 for a copy postpaid.

Blames Sneezing For R28A Mishap

A couple of sneezes at the wrong time produced a freakish chain of events early this morning on Route 28A in the town of Hurley.

First inkling that something was wrong came at 12:45 a. m. when the Ulster County sheriff's office received a call from Henry Gleich of West Hurley.

Gleich reported he had just been driving along Route 28A and had observed a badly damaged station wagon parked in front of St. John's Church. About a half mile farther down the road he saw a utility pole which had been broken in half and was hanging in the air, with evidence of collision from marks in the road.

The sheriff's office dispatched Deputies Charles Dullea and Arthur Roland.

The deputies searched the car and found papers indicating that the vehicle belonged to William Mayhew, RDI, Box 458, Kingston.

They located Mayhew who gave them a description of the mishap. He said he was proceeding along Route 28A in a north-easterly direction when he suddenly started sneezing. He lost control of the 1957 station wagon temporarily and before he could straighten it out again he had smashed into the utility pole, shearing it in half.

Mayhew suffered a cut lip and facial scratches. The front end and right side of the vehicle were damaged.

Paper Halts Publication

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The Grand Rapids Herald, a daily newspaper with 75 years of history is ceasing publication.

Its disappearance will leave only one morning newspaper in Michigan. The Detroit Free Press.

Booth Newspapers, Inc., owner of the morning and Sunday Herald and eight other Michigan papers, says The Herald will cease publication March 29. Declines in circulation and advertising revenues were blamed.

The newspaper, once headed by the late U. S. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, has published since the 1880s under The Herald name or those of its predecessors. It has 300 full and part-time employees.

Monday newspapers made the announcement Monday.

The Herald lists its daily circulation as about 50,000 and Sunday circulation at some 15,000.

Yale Student Body Warned About Conduct

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale University's student body was under indefinite probation today with a warning from school officials that any public misbehavior—such as the weekend snowball melees—would bring immediate expulsion.

Three deans issued the order Monday. It placed the city of New Haven off-limits to any campus social functions. However, except for a curfew in two freshmen dormitories, there was no ban on any on-campus social functions. Yale is located in the center of the city.

University President A. Whitney Griswold said a study group of New Haven and school officials would be formed to prevent further outbreaks. Griswold made the announcement after meeting with Mayor Richard C. Lee, who once headed Yale's news bureau.

Yale has about 3,900 undergraduates. Forty-one were arrested during last week's trouble, which began with a heavy snowfall Thursday. The snow forced cars to a crawl along the streets between the campus and the city green. Students took the opportunity to bombard the cars with snowballs, and did the same to police when they showed up. Police arrested 24 of them.

On Saturday students again began with a heavy snowfall. This time at the rear guard of a St. Patrick's Day parade. About 1,000 students gathered on a street that cuts through the campus as police approached. One hundred policemen, armed with night sticks and backed by firehoses, drove the students inside the gates of a residential college. That time 16 students were arrested.

Another student was arrested Monday in a separate incident. A policeman claimed the student shouted an obscenity at him.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY
An Englishman was watching a parade on Fifth Avenue in New York City.

Approaching an Irish officer he said:
Englishman—And who are all these people?
Irish officer—Oh, that's the Irish parade.
Englishman—Irish parade? Really? And what makes their faces so red?
Irishman—Oh, that's the iron in their blood.
Englishman—Iron in their blood? My word! What kind of iron, I say?
Irishman—Scrap-iron.

Kingston Post Celebrates Its 40th Birthday Tonight

(Editor's note: The following history of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, has been prepared by Eugene B. Carey, local insurance broker, a charter member of the post, on its 40th birthday. Carey is a former mayor of Kingston, a past commander of Post 150, serving two terms. A birthday party is being held tonight at the post home with ceremonies beginning at 8:15.)

Forty years ago the American Legion was born, born in the aftermath of what was in 1917-1918 considered a terrible war. It is the outgrowth of a vision of opportunity for service. The personnel of the American Legion is the war tried youth of America. The soul of the American Legion takes root on the altar of sacrifice, on which its personnel offered their all. The heart of the American Legion throbs with a flood of living patriotism for this, their native land. The mind of the American Legion reasons, that if this Country was worth dying for, she is equally worth living for. The American Legion has established and taught the highest ideals of manhood; in its meetings you will hear nothing that will not benefit you; no man is allowed to traduce his God, his Flag or his Country.

The spirit of liberty, justice and patriotism hovered over the foothills of the Catskill Mountains in the days of 1776, 1812, 1895 and 1917, when men and women from Kingston and its surrounding towns answered the calls for volunteers in those wars. It aroused in them a longing for freedom, then denied. The longing for freedom, variety, aroused in the veterans of World War I, demonstrated by the willful manner in which they offered their services to their country in World War II again in defense of their honor and peace. Over 50,000 members of the American Legion of World War I service volunteered for service in World War II. They served their country again, unexpectedly, the second time in 25 years.

First Meeting
On July 8th, 1919 the first meeting for the organization of an American Legion Post in Kingston was held at the New York State Armory Building, what now is that beautiful Municipal Auditorium, the ownership of which by the City of Kingston was sponsored in part by Kingston Post American Legion, the title thereto accepted by the city during the term of Mayor Eugene B. Carey, and the transformation thereof from an old armory into the aforementioned beautiful municipal auditorium carried out by Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman. Both men are now Past Post Commanders. The first meeting was called by Rudolph C. Dittus, Walter H. Gill and Eugene B. Carey, appointed as a Committee of Organization. Mr. L. C. Tucker, Mayor of Milton, Ulster County, Temporary County Chairman for Ulster County. The following were present and signed the application for a charter: R. C. Dittus, Walter H. Gill, Eugene B. Carey, Edward DuBois, Charles A. Van Etten, Robert F. DuBois, William Sickler, Daniel Styles, Louis de la Vergne, Waldron DuMond, William A. Winston, George W. Greene, Frederick J. Dahlem, Theodore Piotrowski, L. F. McHugh, L. Raymond Miller, Charles W. Shultis, August J. Winter, Robert R. Kerr, Jerry Yaple, Harold A. Styles, Walter W. Tammany, Peter A. Carey, James F. Loughran, Dr. Fred Snyder, Edward D. Fitzgerald, Matthew F. Bence. The meeting was called to order by Walter Gill, who explained in detail the history and objects of the Legion.

Temporary Officers
The following temporary officers were elected: R. C. Dittus, president; Eugene B. Carey, secretary and James F. Loughran, treasurer. Election of other officers was deferred until after receipt of a Charter. A committee of ten (10) was named to secure more members and to act as "Kingston Post." The meeting then adjourned, the charter being held open until July 14th.

The next meeting was held August 11, 1919 at the Armory and called to order by R. C. Dittus, temporary president. The chair declared the nomination and election of permanent officers in order. Before a vote was taken Thomas F. Coughlin obtained the floor and, in behalf of the men who were still in the service when the first meeting was held and had no opportunity to sign the membership roll, protested and suggested that election of officers go over until the next meeting. Edward F. Fitzgerald then moved that a recess be taken to enable all to sign the enrollment cards so as to make everyone present eligible to vote. A recess was taken and the meeting again was called to order.

The temporary officers of the first meeting were made permanent and other offices filled. Walter H. Gill, James F. Loughran and Thomas F. Coughlin were elected delegates to the first County Convention. From then on Kingston Post No. 150 functioned with the Community, County, District, State and National Headquarters to the greatest possible effort. The main effort of the Post during its first year was organizing and this was well accomplished.

Community Work
Our first public appearance in community work was at the unveiling of the "Roll of Honor Tablet" on Armistice Day, November 11, 1919. In this we co-operated with the Industrial Workers Association who raised the money with which to purchase and install the tablet. Our first dance was held in the Armory on October 10th, from which we realized a goodly sum. On October first we assisted the City authorities in arranging for the royal entertainment given to all returned soldiers and sailors. On October 17th, 1919, Treasurer Loughran reported a balance of $364.51 in our treasury. We assisted the Local Chapter of the American Red Cross in their annual drive for members. There was a general and united effort put forth in this drive to show our gratitude for what the Red Cross did for us while in service. On January 15th, 1920, we recommended the appointment of Dr. William J. Cranston as the U. S. Public Health doctor, examiner of wounded and disabled soldiers. On the same day we elected the Rev. Gregory Mabry as our first Chaplain. On February 9th, 10th, and 11th, we held "The Over the Top" minstrel show at the Kingston Opera House under the direction of Harry G. Meisenholder and Thomas P. Dolan.

On February 22nd, 1920 we held Memorial Services at Kingston High School in honor of all Ulster County soldiers, sailors and marines who died in service. The Hon. A. T. Clearwater was the principal speaker. At the conclusion of the exercises we presented to our comrades' next of kin Memorial Diplomas issued by the Republic of France as a fitting remembrance and a lasting memento of our Sister Republic's gratitude.

Building Fund
Our Building fund was started at this time by Treasurer James F. Loughran with a deposit of $900 in the Kingston Savings Bank. At the March 19th meeting, the thought of a Legion Memorial Building originated. A committee was appointed to investigate possibilities. A few meetings of the committee were held, but it died a natural death at that time. It was revived in April 1924 under the Commandership of George W. Potter who appointed a new Building Committee, which organized itself into the American Legion Memorial Campaign Committee and set out to raise by public subscription the sum of $35,000.

A Citizens' Committee under the leadership of the late John D. Schoonmaker took over and raised for the local legionnaires about $40,000. On Sunday afternoon, May 17th, 1925, ground was broken and the following day the construction of the Legion Memorial Building was started. The building was completed in December and on Jan-

Blame Recession

289,411 Members Lost During '58 Auto Workers Say

DETROIT (AP)—The big United Auto Workers union lost nearly one fifth of its membership and operated at a loss of more than two and a quarter million dollars last year. It blamed the setback on the recession and increased automation.

The union's annual financial report said the UAW lost 289,411 dues paying members and operated in the red by $2,373,298 during 1958.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer, said membership fell from 1,315,461 in 1957 to 1,026,050 in 1958. The union said it spent 22 million dollars in support of strikes at 279 plants during 1958, leaving a strike fund balance of 19 million dollars as of Dec. 31.

A $1-a-month assessment was levied against the membership last month. It is to continue until the strike fund reaches 25 million dollars.

Greene Jury Is To Hear Story on Alleged Assault

An assault case involving a state trooper has been referred to the Greene County Grand Jury for action at its next session May 4, it was learned today.

Cpl. Edward Shannon, a member of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, New York State Police, is charged with third degree assault for allegedly striking a Greene County man Feb. 18.

In an appearance Saturday before Police Justice George

Carl of Catskill, District Attorney Alex Wiltse Jr., of Greene County, moved to have the case taken to the grand jury.

Carl asked Shannon, who was not represented by counsel, if he had any objection and Shannon answered that he did not.

Shannon's attorney is Howard C. St. John, former Ulster County district attorney. He is free in his own recognizance.

Cpl. Shannon was arrested on complaint of Harold Morrison, 35, of Cairo, who claimed the trooper and another man in a black car stopped his car on Route 32 in Ulster County.

Morrison said the two men were wearing civilian clothes. They asked the whereabouts of his brother, Robert, 31, of Cairo, a passenger in a vehicle allegedly involved in a hit-run accident the day before. Morrison charges that when he failed to provide the information, Cpl. Shannon identified himself as a police officer, then struck him on the mouth.

Paying Your Income Tax

Important Change Permits Greater Use of Form 1040A

Editor's note — In preparing your federal income tax return, you may have the option—depending on your income—of which form to use. But it's important that you pick the right one, as this second of five articles on income tax questions makes plain.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Which form to use in making your 1958 income tax return: The small punchcard 1040A or the longer, four-page 1040?

Most people, because they fit the requirements and it's easy, will use 1040A. Some of them, for special reasons, will prefer 1040. The rest must use 1040.

Remember: A very important change since last year permits more people to use 1040A.

Last year only those with less than $5,000 income could use it. This year people with up to $10,000 income can use 1040A.

You can use 1040A only if you fit this rule:

Alternative Cited

If your income was under $10,000 and tax was withheld from all of it except for no more than $200 in interest, dividends or wages. If that doesn't apply to you, you must use 1040.

Things to keep in mind before deciding to use 1040A:

If you use it, you must take the standard deduction of about 10 per cent for all personal expenses which are deductible like interest on the house mortgage, state taxes, charitable contributions, and so on.

Anyone with such deductions greater than 10 per cent of his income will usually lose money using 1040A. Instead, use 1040 where, although you'll have to itemize your deductions in order to claim them, you can claim all you're entitled to.

Ways of Reduction

There are certain ways of reducing your tax by using 1040 that you can't use if you file your return on 1040A. For instance:

You can't on 1040A (but can on 1040) deduct for sick pay paid by your employer. Nor can you on 1040A claim to be head of a household, a special status which gives you a smaller tax than you could obtain filing as a single person.

You can't on 1040A (but can on 1040) claim credit for retirement pay. You can't use 1040A at all if during 1958 you paid an estimated tax on your income.

Everyone who got dividends on stock of most domestic corporations can knock off the first $50 of them. You can do that on both 1040 and 1040A. On 1040 you work out the $50 deduction on page 3, schedule A.

On 1040A you simply write in the amount of dividend payment you have left after subtracting $50, but — there's another break on dividends that you can get on 1040 but can't on 1040A.

This is:

After you've deducted the first $50 of your dividends you can deduct from your tax four per cent of the value of the dividends above the first $50. There are places for doing that on 1040. There's no place for it on 1040A.

Checking Expenses

This year the Internal Revenue Service is particularly checking on expense accounts. On both 1040A and 1040 you're asked if you charged business expenses to your employer and whether he paid you for them.

If you got back from him all you paid out of your pocket for expenses, and no more, that's all. But if your expenses were less than the boss paid you for them, the difference is income and must be reported as part of your income.

You have to report that difference as part of your income as "excess reimbursements" on line five, page one of 1040. You can't do this on 1040A. Therefore, in this case you couldn't use 1040A.

Despite 1040A's small size, a husband and wife can file a joint return on it, even though the wife had no income or, if she did, if their combined income was under $10,000 and they fit the requirements given above for using 1040A.

Exemption Claims

Also on 1040A you can claim your exemptions.

If you use 1040A—and your income was under $5,000—you can figure your tax by using the table on the back of the instruction sheet which the Internal Revenue Service sends every taxpayer.

If you don't have it, get it. But if your income was under $5,000 and you're using 1040A, you don't have to figure your tax, if you don't want to. Just answer the questions, send it to your local IRS director and let him figure it out.

Then he'll send you a bill if you still owe some tax or a refund if he finds you paid too much tax during the year.

If your income was over $5,000 but under $10,000 — and you're using 1040A — you must compute your own tax from the tax-rate schedule on the instruction sheet.

In this case, if you find you still owe tax, you must send your IRS director a check. If you've overpaid your tax in 1958, he'll send you a refund.

No Need to Itemize

If you have to use 1040 but your income was $5,000 and your deductions were under 10 per cent — if they were, of course, you don't have to itemize them — you can figure your own tax by using the table on the back of the instruction sheet.

But if your taxable income was $5,000 or more — whether you use 1040A or 1040 — you must figure your own tax from the schedule which fits your case in the instruction sheet.

WE CATER TO SMART PEOPLE

Prescriptions are our business. And our business is different from any other business.

Here is where our business is different! You can't look up the price for that prescription in the newspaper ads, nor can you compare this prescription with the price your Aunt Tessie paid for her prescription last month. The reason is obvious—each prescription is individually designed for a specific condition in an entirely different person.

The point is that your prescription is not a commodity like a loaf of bread or a can of paint. There are no "specials" on prescriptions for heart conditions nor a "sale" on compounds for high blood pressure! And this is rightly so.

Nevertheless, sometimes misunderstandings about prescription prices occur. To prevent such situations, we wish you would show us your prescription and ask for the cost of filling it. Give us a few minutes to check the ingredients and quantities, and we will be pleased to tell you exactly how much we must charge.

In fact, we'll both feel better about it. You—because you will know in advance what the cost will be. We—because we will know that you are exercising your prerogative of doing business where you want. That proves you are smart and intelligent. All our customers are smart and intelligent. That is one reason they shop here!

Warning to the unwary—

Against the backdrop of legitimate Wall Street operations, one of the crudest of rackets is booming. "Boiler room" operators are extracting millions of dollars from unsuspecting persons.

What is a "boiler room" operator? How does he work?

He sells stocks and bonds that are worthless. "Boiler rooms" are illegal enterprises that got their colorful tag from the din and clatter of high pressure salesmen working in close quarters. Historically, when the stock markets boom the business of these racketeers flourishes. It is flourishing today.

Listen to this:

As a result of hard work and thrifty living, a student of the ministry at a midwestern university and his secretary-wife had built themselves a tidy nest egg of $3,500.

Recently the student received an unexpected long-distance phone call from a stranger who declared, he represented a Wall Street brokerage office. He offered the student the "chance of a lifetime," $500 worth of stock certain soon to be worth much more. The student fell for his glib high-pressure spiel.

In a matter of days the phone call was repeated. The "boiler room" operator now reported fabulous gains in the stock and after discovering his victim still had $3,000, suggested the sum would neatly cover the purchase of six additional shares for each share already held. He promised the $3,000 would swiftly grow to $15,000, but warned:

"I must have your answer in two hours because I am going on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange to list the stock."

This story was told to me by Paul Windels Jr., regional commissioner of the Securities & Exchange Commission, the government agency created to police the securities markets.

"You can write the ending to this story," Mr. Windels said. "This trusting student of the ministry is just the sort that would spend weeks debating with his wife whether to buy a $39 or $45 overcoat, and freeze meanwhile. Yet he couldn't resist the lure of riches."

Of course the SEC is going to bat for this victim exactly as it is campaigning vigorously against all "boiler room" operators.

"But," warns Windels, "as long as the public keeps buying there will be 'boiler room' operators selling."

Girl Scouts, Brownies Start Cookie Sale

Over 2,000 Brownies and Girl Scouts will participate in the annual county-wide spring cookie sale opening today and continuing throughout Saturday.

To aid the financial needs of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council Mrs. Allan J. Albrecht, of Woodstock, general chairman, and the members of her committee have set an ambitious goal. This year's cookie order placed with the McGowen-Educator Company, of Lowell, Mass., will total $2,104 boxes, a 38 percent increase over last year's sales. According to Mrs. Albrecht the first $3,000 from the sale proceeds will go toward the council's operating expense to provide greater services to all leaders and troops. The remainder of the cookie sale proceeds will be used for the maintenance and development of Camp Wendy, county Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill. The council operates the camp during six weeks of the summer season with an additional week prior to the opening date for pre-camp training of professional and volunteer staff.

Many of the council's 120 troops do overnight and weekend camping at the site except during winter months due to the present lack of winterized units.

Girl Scouts and Brownies in cooperation with the cookie sale committee spent the early part of February obtaining advance cookie orders. Deliveries will be made during the coming week in each of the 12 Girl Scout neighborhoods.

Additional boxes are available for all troops. Persons not formerly contacted and wishing to support the cookie sale may notify the local Girl Scout office, 290 Fair Street. Cookies will also be sold at Girl Scout booths in leading stores and banks in Kingston and Woodstock Friday evening, March 20, and Saturday, March 21.

Assisting Mrs. Albrecht and John Walker, co-chairmen of the spring cookie sale are the following local chairmen:

Highland-Clintondale, Mrs.

James R. Huston; Ellenville, Mrs. Charles Craft; Kerhonkson, Mrs. Alfred Feldshuh; Marlboro, Mrs. Carmen Pascale; Marbletown, Mrs. Herman Miller; New Paltz, Mrs. Richard Culver; Ontonagon, Arthur Henkel; Wallkill, Mrs. Edward Edsall; Woodstock, Mrs. Dwight Bellinger; Accord, Mrs. Leslie Aaron; Kingston uptown, Mrs. John Cullum and Mrs. Alfred Mantovani, Jr.; Kingston downtown, Mrs. William Prendergast for Port Ewen and Mrs. George Scherrer, Kingston and Saugerties, Mrs. Charles Schumacher.

Fight Develops Over Successor To Reed's Seat

WELLSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—An open party fight has developed over the Republican nomination for the representative of the 43rd Congressional District.

Allegany County's GOP Committee Monday endorsed County Judge Ward M. Hopkins, raising a challenge to Chautauque County Republicans.

The GOP committee in Chautauque, the most heavily populated county in the predominantly Republican district, has backed Charles E. Goodell Jr., a James-town lawyer.

Republican Rep. Daniel A. Reed, who represented the district for 40 years before his death last month, was from Chautauque County.

The other two counties in the district are Cattaraugus and Livingston. Cattaraugus has indicated it would go along with Chautauque.

A party choice will be named at a special nominating session. No date for the meeting has been set.

PSC Approves Hikes

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Albany-Nassau Bus Corp. of Hudson is boosting some of its fares.

The Public Service Commission Monday authorized increases for the line, which operates between Albany and Valatie, Columbia County.

A five-cent increase will apply to adult fares for trips between Albany or Rensselaer and points between Hillview Road in the Clinton Heights area and Miller Road in Schodack Center. Children's and school fares will be increased proportionately. Other fares will remain as is.

The company has told the PSC its operating costs for the year ending March 31, 1960, would exceed this year's expenses by more than $7,500.

Cadillac

Traveling the highways of the world are many Cadillac cars that have covered a million miles or more! Most motorists, of course, relinquish ownership before one tenth of that distance has accumulated. However, it is a constant source of satisfaction to know that a Cadillac could—if you demanded it—carry you so far as easily. Why not visit your dealer and let the 1959 Cadillac speak for itself—it's a wonderful story told in silence!

Twelve Teams Enter Sixth Annual Kingston Cage Tourney

FROM ST. PETERSBURG—E. L. Beckner, owner of Dawn Day, is flanked by Mr. and Mrs. Tony de Liso of St. Petersburg and Woodstock in the winner's circle at Derby Lane, the greyhound race track in St. Pete. The de Lisos presented the fourth annual Distance Championship Stakes Trophy to Beckner.

First Dutch Nearing Church League Crown

First Dutch players are one win away from the YMCA Church League crown. Last night at the George Washington School, the team downed Fair Street, 61-42, to finish the second round unbeaten. It will meet Clinton Avenue Monday night. If First Dutch wins, the season is over. If the opponents come out on top, another playoff tilt will be needed since it would mean Clinton Avenue is the first round champion as both teams ended the round in a tie.

In other tilts last night, Clinton Avenue clubbed Trinity Lutheran, 85-39, and Salvation Army, 46-34.

First Round Action Slated Thursday Night

Four clubs have drawn byes and the other eight will see first round action in the Sixth Annual Kingston Basketball tournament which opens Thursday at the Kingston Municipal auditorium. Top rated Pine Plains Bombardiers, last year's runnerup; Byrne's Chevies, defending champion; the Stamford Knights of Columbus, fourth place finisher last year and the Kingston Stars have all advanced to the second round.

The opening doubleheader will feature Middleburgh against Morgan Fuel of Poughkeepsie, third place finisher last year, and Sickler's 35 club against Balotin Rx of Ellenville. The action will get underway at 7 p. m. with the second tilt scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The winners of the Thursday games will play again on Sunday night. The Middleburgh-Morgan Fuel victor will tangle with the Chevies in the first game and the second contest will match the Sickler-Balotin winner against the Stamford Knights.

The lower bracket teams will play Tuesday, March 24 with the New Paltz Jays meeting the Pine Plains A's and Red Hook facing the LaSalle Alumni. The winner of the New Paltz-A.C. tilt will face the Kingston Stars on Thursday, March 26 in the first game of a twin bill. The second tilt will match the Bombardiers with the Red Hook-LaSalle Alumni winner. Semi-finals will take place Sunday, April 5 and the title clash will be held Tuesday, March 7.

Bombardiers Loaded

Rosters of the teams entered in the open division are complete but they will have to go some to compete with the "loaded" Bombardiers. Bossman George Stuetzle has rounded up an all-star cast headed by Kingston favorites Ronnie Schefel and Yip Koenig. Joining them are Dick Tyler and Mickey Burkowski of Newburgh; Ted Dwyer, the former Columbia University great; Gary Holway and Jack Cohen of Albany State Teachers College; Garry Mendez of Poughkeepsie and Jack Hassnatter, ex-New Paltz State star.

Fred Davi, who guided the Byrne Chevies to the crown last year, has promised to floor the team. As a starter he has John Curry, last year's MVP while playing with Pine Plains; Ed Kolokowski, Suffern High coach and the Most Valuable player two seasons ago; Jim Hopper and Chuck Ropes, two big boys who have played with the Fishkill team in the finals.

Morgan Fuel figures to have some of Poughkeepsie's better players as does the Kingston Stars, headed by Andy Juhl. New Paltz features most of the college stars with a couple of big boys added. Not much is known of the other clubs in the tourney at the present time.

Andrew J. Murphy III, tournament director, said the entry list promises to make this one of the best tournaments ever staged in this city.

The junior division, featuring players 19 years old and under, is scheduled to start during the Easter vacation but no definite date has been set yet. Eight clubs have entered this division.

Celtics Ready For Nat Series

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, confident and in top physical shape, scheduled a stiff workout today as a final tuneup for the National Basketball Assn. playoffs.

Boostered by the return of Tommy Heinsohn, Jim Loscutt and Gene Conley, the Celtics meet the Syracuse Nationals at the Garden Wednesday night in the opener of the best-of-seven Eastern division finals.

The Celtics have enjoyed a week of light practices while the Nats fought their way into the Eastern finals by trouncing the New York Knicks twice in a row.

Boston won the regular season Eastern division title while setting an NBA record of 52 victories. Syracuse finished third behind New York, but is much stronger because of the late-season acquisition of George Yardley.

Many Organizations Entered In 'Y' Weightlifting Meet

Preparation for the Hudson Valley weightlifting meet, scheduled for Saturday at the Kingston YMCA, are almost complete and members of the local weightlifting club will meet tonight at 9 p. m. at the "Y" to make final plans.

Physical Director Dick Case said many entries have been received. Among those organizations expected to compete are the Troy YMCA, Albany, Arlington Barbell Club, Schenectady YMCA, Catskill Boys' Club, Port Jervis, Middletown, Coxsackie, Otisville, New Hampton and the Poughkeepsie YMCA. More than 50 entries are expected by the time the meet gets underway.

A team trophy, seven first place trophies, 14 second and third place medals will be awarded. John Owcock, Troy, will be master of ceremonies. Referee will be Edward Lord, Hannacroix. Judges will be Carl Linich, Poughkeepsie and Royce Bower, New Hampton.

FOOTLOOSE—Gene Green, St. Louis Cardinal catcher, was rooted into the air by Yankee Jerry Lumpe's slide, which came as Green was in the act of taking the throw. St. Petersburg Fla. action comes on a square play.

Rockefeller Expected To Sign Racing Bills For Earlier Opening

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Fast action is expected from Gov. Rockefeller on two bills that would lengthen the state's harness and flat-track racing seasons.

The Republican governor's signature is expected almost momentarily on a measure that would extend the flat-track season from 210 to 220 days.

Favorable action also is indicated for the bill which would lengthen the harness racing season.

The proposal, which would change the harness season limits from April 1-Nov. 15 to March 20-Nov. 30, swept through the Legislature Monday night.

Yonkers Raceway, anticipating the governor's approval, is ready to open Friday night.

The bill passed the Senate without debate. In the Assembly, the vote was 128-18.

Most of the negative votes were cast by New York City Democrats. Some said they dissented because Republican leaders had been "hypocritical" in killing proposals for legalizing off-track betting.

The bill was sponsored by Sen. William F. Condon and Assemblyman Pratt B. Esser, Westchester County Republicans. Condon estimated that the state and track facilities would gain 2½ million dollars in revenue from pari-mutuel betting and admissions taxes.

Siena's Weaver On First Team

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Bill Smith of St. Peter's of New Jersey heads the Middle Eastern all-conference basketball team.

Smith was conference player of the year and scoring champion, Dan Cunha, conference president, said yesterday. The 6-5 sophomore averaged 24.3 points per game.

Other members of the all-conference team are Dick Lynch of LeMoyne, George Carter of Iona, Jack Weaver of Siena and Richie Dreyer of St. Francis of Brooklyn.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla. — (NEA) — Jim Norris, in rare form and voice, walked into the Rocky Point Beach Restaurant and offered to wager anybody present $5,000 that Floyd Patterson would not box Ingemar Johansson this year.

That Bill Rosensohn has settled down to be Cus D'Amato's private promoter, and has the fight scheduled for June 23 in New York doesn't faze James Douglas Norris.

"I have Eddie Ahlquist (Johansson's adviser) in my pocket," he said. "Ahlquist signed for a return match with D'Amato."

He also contracted to box Pat McMurry. He'll hear from both of them if he moves to fight Patterson first.

"Let's lay it on the table. Sonny Liston is my fighter. I believe he's the best of the lot. I have offered Joe Vella and Suey Welch, who have Charley Powell, $15,000 to box Liston. The winner would go big against Cleveland Williams to Houston."

Let'em fight. That's what I say. I want to clearly establish who is best. Then I'll chase Patterson across the country until I corner him and find out whether he can really fight."

Norris dropped into the restaurant, seven miles from Tampa, rather late in the evening. It was an unusual place to bump into Big Jim, whose activities at this time of the year ordinarily are confined to the Gulfstream Park and his farm at Coral Gables.

Frank Carbo, wanted for a business conference with New York District Attorney Frank Hogan, reportedly was in Tampa. But nobody brought that up as Norris barged over to our table.

Norris said he was going to see Lou Viscusi, who lives in Tampa, but he really had crossed the state to see his nine-year-old daughter compete in the Tampa Horse Show. Viscusi has Joe Brown, lightweight champ, Roy Harris and Cleveland Williams.

Norris said he had not seen either of the heavyweight matches at Miami Beach (Liston-De John and Powell-Valdes), explained that his doctor would not permit that.

"I'm a sick man," he said. That was the excuse for not appearing before the New York Grand Jury or answering the page of District Attorney Frank Hogan.

FOR A MAN WHOSE INTERNATIONAL BOXING CLUB was ordered dissolved by a federal judge, Norris mapped an externally active pugilistic program.

"I'm making the matches," he told those at my table. Asked if Cus D'Amato still owed him $16,000, he replied in the affirmative.

"And I'll get it," he said. "D'Amato could be hit by a streetcar, you know."

Foxell, who quit the San Francisco 49ers to fight, moved into Norris' picture when he took out Nino Valdes at Miami Beach. A month or so before, Liston turned in an almost identical job against Mike DeJohn.

Williams, depicted as a fearsome heavy, is quite an attraction in Houston, where he has belted out a lot of garbage. Williams was flattened by Bob Satterfield way back, and he ran out of a match in England last summer. He explained he "got strange messages from beyond." He is a picture boxer but many wonder if he can take a solid punch.

"The trouble with managers is that they don't like to take a chance," Norris said. "Now that he has knocked out Valdes before a nation-wide television audience, Powell can get matches considerably softer than one with Liston. I'll admit a fighter tackling Liston is flirting with disaster. But where else, can Powell get $15,000 for a fight?"

Another who suspected Norris had divorced himself from boxing left the table with different ideas. The man is conducting a hot war against D'Amato.

Mrs. Schatzel, Murphy Qualify for Tourney

Rose Schatzel and Hilda Murphy of Kingston and Dolores McCormick of Saugerties are three of the 12 finalists in the Women's state championship handicap tournament who will compete Saturday, 1 p. m., at Sangi's in the final round. Thirty-six bowlers were in the qualifying round which ended Sunday at the Rhinebeck Bowling Center.

Mrs. Murphy made one of the biggest jumps in the second week of the qualifying round. She was in 23rd place after the first week and was apparently out of the running. However, the newest Kingston star had 1134 sticks for the six games over the weekend to vault her into ninth place. Mrs. Schatzel, the premier women bowler in the Hudson Valley for many years, was 14th after the first round and she banged 1087 for advance to 11th in the final qualifying standings.

The two local stars have the highest averages of the women entered in the competition. Mrs. Schatzel doesn't have a handicap while Hilda is given only 24 pins.

The twelve finalists:

Playoffs Slated In Boys' Loop

Championship games in the Kingston Boys' Club basketball league will take place Friday at the George Washington School gym with the Hawks playing the Eagles and the Raiders facing the Knicks.

In American League playoff tilts, the Eagles downed the Hornets, 28-24 and the Hawks squeezed by the Celtics, 37-33. The National League action had the Raiders stampede the Stampeders, 28-15 and the Knicks wallop the Tigers, 27-9.

Corinth Boxer Holds Several Other Crowns

Harry Burdick of Corinth, defending champion in the 132-pound open division, is one of the headliners scheduled to appear in the Adirondack AAU's 34th annual Golden Gloves championships Friday and Saturday at the municipal auditorium.

A winner of the Vermont state championship Burdick also holds the Lowell Sun championship belt and was a semi-finalist in the Tournament of Champions in New York City.

Catskill will be represented by two additional starters in Danny Andrews, 119-pound Open contender, a former district champion in the 112 and 132-pound championships and Ace Clentchscale in the 165-pound Open division.

A strong Binghamton squad has entered five Southern Tier championships in the Open class. The group which is coached by Jim Gallagher includes: John Deuel, 147 pounds; Charles Gleason, 132 pounds; Leon Kaczmarek, 165 pounds; Al Vanderpool, 118 pounds and Gill Barrier, heavy-weight.

Arbor Hill Team
The Arbor Hill Center team of Albany, one of the strongest expect here this weekend, will feature two champions in Bill Brooks, 1958 Novice 119-pound champion who will appear in the Open division; Charlie Goodbee, 119-pound novice; Harold Anderson, 132-pound Open; Douglas Wicks, 156-pound novice and Archie Goodbee Jr., 112-pound Open. The latter won the flyweight title at the recent Poughkeepsie tournament.

Chairman Ben Becker of the AAU expects several other regional champions to converge upon Kingston from all parts of the state.

"The entries are coming in nicely," said Becker this morning, "it looks like one of the best tournaments we have had in years."

Over 30 Playoffs

Main Street Five Raps Saugerties, 43-29

Andy Murphy turned into a scorer last night at the Municipal auditorium and his 11 points sparked the Main Street Liquor Store to a 43-29 win over the Saugerties Amrods in the first game of a best of three playoff in the Over 30 league. In the other tilt, Hotel Kingston nipped Twaalfskill, 36-31.

Saugerties played Main Street without four of its starters and after a close first quarter, the winners pulled way ahead the rest of the distance.

Handy Andy celebrated St. Patrick's Day a little early, as he pumped in five baskets and a foul shot for his mammoth point total. Mickey Kyff had 10 markers and Coach Jack Gilligan hit for nine in addition to masterminding the win. Bud Turk made 12 for the losers.

Hotel Kingston scored 14 points in a second quarter rally and held Twaalfskill to four to insure the victory. A second half rally by the losers fell short.

Dick Wood sparked the golfers with 10 points. Max Wunderlich had the same total for the Hotel Kingston boys.

Moore Heading For Hockey Title

MONTREAL (AP)—A zephyr-like drive in the past month has taken Montreal's Dickie Moore to the threshold of his second straight National Hockey League scoring title, according to statistics released today.

At the same time, linemate Jean Beliveau has teamed to make the Montreal Canadiens even tougher to beat in the upcoming Stanley Cup playoffs, despite the absence of injured Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie Geoffrion.

Moore has scored nine goals and 22 assists since Feb. 17, to advance from fourth place to the league lead with 92 points, three shy of Detroit star Gordie Howe's record set in 1952-53.

Not In Shape
Morrow has said he wasn't in good condition and that the next time he met Sime he would be different.

Sime and Morrow clash in both the 100 and 220 as special events of the West Texas Relays Saturday.

Sime, Morrow Set for Duel
ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Another Dave Sime-Bobby Morrow sprint duel with Glenn Davis thrown in has west Texas track fans agog this week.

It could be something of a preview of the 1960 Olympic Games—at least it will have two Olympic heroes, Morrow and Davis, and another who missed the glory because of an injury.

It will be the fourth time for Sime, the Duke comet, and Morrow, the Olympic sprint king from Abilene Christian College, to clash in the 100-yard dash. Sime, who beat Morrow at Big Spring, Tex., last year in the celebrated "race of the century," holds two decisions.

Opinion Divided On Feather Bout
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fight crowd remained divided today on the outcome of the world featherweight title bout between Champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey and Davey Moore, the top challenger.

One thing is certain, however: One or the other is going to have a healthy winning streak snapped in the 15-round scrap, nationally televised from the Olympic Auditorium Wednesday night.

"It won't be my fighter's," said George Biddle, manager of the champion from Nigeria.

"My guy will win," declared Canny Willie Ketchum, pilot of the contender from Springfield, Ohio.

Bassey, who lives in Liverpool, England, has not been beaten in his last 11 matches, dating back to 1956. He lost that year to Jean Sneyers because of a severely cut eye.

The 25-year-old Davey hasn't lost in 13 fights. His last loss, was to Buddy Rogers in eight rounds in 1956.

Wiltwyck Gets '60 HRGA Championship

Jack Thompson sandbagged a 653 series in the City Minor League last night, rocketing games of 188, 241 and 224 in the sub-anthor slot for Watrous Appliance.

Carman Milano decked 257-208-625 in the Minor, while Vince Carpino shot 200-231-623 and Orlando Felipe reeled off 203-204-213-620.

Clifton Quick led IBM Superior trundlers with 201-222-617 and Dick Waltman posted 234-604.

Herb Petersen unloaded 219-594 in the City Minor League. Jones to Fight In Boston Garden
BOSTON (AP)—Middleweight contender Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., matches his aggressive tactics against the boxing wizardry of stylish Paul Pender tonight in a 10-rounder at the Boston Garden.

BARBARA LYNCH meshed games of 156, 164 and 165 for 485 high triple in the 1959 Feather League. Ann Baccari shot 442, Charline Finley 420, Betty Olsen 423, Jean Henderson 414.

Opinion Divided On Feather Bout
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The fight crowd remained divided today on the outcome of the world featherweight title bout between Champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey and Davey Moore, the top challenger.

One thing is certain, however: One or the other is going to have a healthy winning streak snapped in the 15-round scrap, nationally televised from the Olympic Auditorium Wednesday night.

"It won't be my fighter's," said George Biddle, manager of the champion from Nigeria.

"My guy will win," declared Canny Willie Ketchum, pilot of the contender from Springfield, Ohio.

Bassey, who lives in Liverpool, England, has not been beaten in his last 11 matches, dating back to 1956. He lost that year to Jean Sneyers because of a severely cut eye.

The 25-year-old Davey hasn't lost in 13 fights. His last loss, was to Buddy Rogers in eight rounds in 1956.

Sime, Morrow Set for Duel
ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Another Dave Sime-Bobby Morrow sprint duel with Glenn Davis thrown in has west Texas track fans agog this week.

It could be something of a preview of the 1960 Olympic Games—at least it will have two Olympic heroes, Morrow and Davis, and another who missed the glory because of an injury.

It will be the fourth time for Sime, the Duke comet, and Morrow, the Olympic sprint king from Abilene Christian College, to clash in the 100-yard dash. Sime, who beat Morrow at Big Spring, Tex., last year in the celebrated "race of the century," holds two decisions.

Not In Shape
Morrow has said he wasn't in good condition and that the next time he met Sime he would be different.

Sime and Morrow clash in both the 100 and 220 as special events of the West Texas Relays Saturday.

Charley Scott Scores Upset Against Logart

NEW YORK (AP)—A warmup fight turned out to be a roast for welterweight contender Isaac Logart.

Charley Scott, a virtual unknown from Philadelphia and a 3-1 underdog, made things too hot for sleek Isaac at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. The rangy 22-year-old edged Logart, 25, by split decision in a sizzling 10-rounder.

Matchmaker - promoter, Teddy Brenner said he planned to have them clash in a return bout at St. Nick's within a month. Most of the 1,406 fans who paid $3.083 undoubtedly will be back for another helping. It was a corking scrap.

Split Verdict
The officials split on the verdict and so did the ringside critics.

Referee Mark Conn, who had little to do in the ring but get out of the way, had Scott a big winner, 6-2-2 on rounds. Judge Joe Eppy had it 5-4-1 for Scott. Judge Joe D'Onofrio's score was 3-1-1 for Logart. The AP card had Logart ahead, 5-4-1. A quick poll of the ringside showed a 3-2 margin for Scott.

Scott's victory was his third of the year and boosted his record to 22-9. Logart's record is 53-11-7.

Logart, 5-7, weighed 146½. Scott weighed 147.

Monzant Wants to Play Ball But on His Terms

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The strange case of Ramon Monzant took on a bright green hue today.

Monzant has turned in his strike placard and taken up the cudgels of the anti-tax fanatics.

The San Francisco Giant pitcher, a fugitive from spring training camp holed out in Venezuela, has decided he would like to play major league baseball this season.

The right-hander, who compiled an 8-11 record in the 1958 campaign, said Monday the Giants could have his services if they meet his salary demands.

Ramon recently said he was fed up with baseball, having already wasted six unprofitable years in this country's favorite pastime, and was tossing away his resin bag. No amount of money, he said, could force him to reconsider his retirement plans.

Dr. Fred Holcomb Is Vice-President Of Hudson Valley Golfers

Wiltwyck Country Club has been awarded the 1960 championships of the Hudson River Golf Association.

The 1959 tournament will be held at the Orange Country Club on July 11-12, it was announced at the annual meeting of the HRGA at Newburgh.

Paul Priest of Middletown was elected president succeeding Col. Charles Mount of the West Point Officers Club.

Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., of Wiltwyck was elected vice-president. Other officers are: John Hornbeck, Powelton, secretary, and Paul Weiss, Dutchess, treasurer. The latter two were re-elected.

Qualifying play for the annual tournament is scheduled July 10 at Middletown. The representatives voted to permit an optional qualifying date on Sunday, July 5, subject to the approval of the host club, which was not represented at the meeting.

Other scheduled events include the Team Championship and Ladies Event at West Point; Poughkeepsie.

Ladies at Point
The Ladies Event is to be held on a Tuesday in June to be selected by the West Point women's organization.

It was also decided that in the Seniors championship, the various member clubs may enter as many teams of four as they wish. Prizes will be awarded to each member of the team with the lowest total gross and the lowest total net.

The full schedule follows:
May 16 — Saturday-at-Golf, Rockland C. C., Suffern.

June 13 — Saturday-at-Golf, Wiltwyck Country Club.

July 10-11-12 — Champions tournament, Orange County CC, Middletown.

July 25 — Team championship, West Point.

August 22 — Seniors championship, Powelton, Newburgh.

Sept. 12 — Saturday-at-Golf, Dutchess Golf and Country Club, Poughkeepsie.

Seniors at Powelton in Newburgh and Saturdays-at-Golf at Wiltwyck, Dutchess, Golf and Country Club and Rockland County C. C. at Suffern.

Village Board Hears Variance In Zoning Given

A variance in the village zoning ordinance to permit the opening of a meat market in Barclay Heights was granted on a two-year temporary basis, it was announced at Saugerties Village Board meeting Monday night in the trustees' rooms.

John and Eleanor Cecala of Overbagh Street, Barclay Heights recently asked the village zoning board for a variance to permit them to open a meat market at their residence on Overbagh Street.

A petition was submitted by six residents of Overbagh Street at the March 2 meeting of the board seeking modification of the zoning ordinance permitting the opening of the market.

The ruling of the board read to the trustees follows: "After considering all of the evidence presented we unanimously find that there is a substantial hardship to the owner of said property as presently zoned which is substantiated by a medical report of his physician, Dr. Lester A. Sonking. Therefore we agree that Mr. and Mrs. Cecala be granted a temporary variance from the zoning ordinance of the Village of Saugerties for a two year period beginning March 21, 1959 and expiring March 21, 1961. This is predicated on the assumption that Mr. Cecala's back injury will have sufficiently improved by that time to allow him to pursue his normal occupation of butcher. This variance is issued with the express understanding that it is granted only to Mr. Cecala and is not transferable and will not necessitate a substantial change in the structure of the building to be converted into a meat market."

The ruling was dated March 13 and signed by Albert L. Giannotti, zoning board chairman; Lewis M. Robinson and Clarence Lynk.

George Gardner of C. A. Lynch Fire Company reported to the Board of Trustees that the fire company is preparing a petition for a special referendum on the floating of a bond issue in the amount of approximately $51,000 for a new pumper truck and firehouse on the southside.

According to village law the petition must contain 75 qualified names. Gardner said it would be ready for presentation at the next village board meeting April 6.

In estimates presented to the village board at the March 2 meeting, the new pumper truck would cost approximately $25,000 and a new fire station on the southside about $26,000 on a lot owned by the fire company.

Village Clerk Ernest Ackert was authorized to purchase a new filing cabinet not to exceed $70.

Ackert read a letter from Clark Electronics Inc., Kingston, seeking a permanent permit to use a sound truck in the Village of Saugerties. The board ruled that permission must be sought for each time and a permanent permit could not be issued.

In voting on village fire company membership, John S. Holcomb was accepted as a member of R. A. Snyder Fire Company. Exemption papers were issued to David Simmons and Edward Burch, members of C. A. Lynch Fire Company who have served the required time.

Rustle of Spring Heard at WSCS Fashion Parade

Despite the snow-covered ground outdoors, a rustle of spring was definitely heard Saturday afternoon in the Saugerties

Methodist Chapel. Beautiful fashions of the season were shown in an unusual setting of outer space. Stars, crescents, comets, satellites and lovely angels traveling under a rose tinted cloud provided the "out-of-this-world" atmosphere.

Mrs. Grace Werner, narrator for the occasion, described the styles for young and those a bit older in an artistic and professional manner.

Amrod's, Delson's, Rachel's, Ciccone Bridal Shop, Vivian's, Newberry's, London's, Mara Bella's and Halpert's were Saugerties shops displaying fashions and accessories.

Models included Allen Beaudoin, Miss Linda Sawitz, Philip Crank, Mark McGrath, Terry Pohan, Mrs. Alice Armstrong, Miss Mary Ann Bolinder, Mrs. Ann Robinson, Miss Melinda Waldele, Miss Gretchen Van Kleeck, Mrs. Nellie Brown, Mrs. Frances Maxwell, Mrs. Jean Emery, Mrs. Alma Helmsmoortel, Mrs. Ruby Wilde, Miss Nancy Quackenbush, Miss Arlene Krom, Miss Hildery Thompson, Miss April Werner, Miss Nancy Pohan, Miss Sherry Knudson, Miss Bette Thompson, Miss Barbara Hildebrandt, Miss Lloyann Crank, Miss Nancy Bolinder, Keith Helmsmoortel, Scott Emery, Mrs. Jeanne Sawitz, Mrs. Myrna Jones, Mrs. Helen Crank, Mrs. Grace Werner, Mrs. Muriel Beaudoin, Mrs. Genevieve Nieffner, Mrs. Barbara McGrath, and Mrs. Gladys Cunningham.

A colorful luncheon was served by Mrs. Mary Bolinder and her committee. Mrs. Emily Hartley was ticket chairman; Mrs. Jeanne Sawitz, dining room chairman; Mrs. Harriet Thompson, chair models; Mrs. Myrna Jones, Marge Ball and Mrs. Mildred Krom, wardrobe chairmen.

Posters were designed by Mrs. Myrna Jones and decorations were made by Mrs. Hilton Long. Mrs. Gertrude Waldele, Mrs. Ethel Thompson and Mrs. Jeanne Sawitz. Appropriate musical selections were played for the models by Mrs. Thelma Long.

Mrs. Ruby Wilde, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Saugerties Methodist Church was general chairman of the event.

Skits were presented between modeling sequences. Miss April Werner and Miss Bette Thompson entertained in "Space Girl" and Mrs. Myrna Jones and Mrs. Barbara McGrath were featured in "Broadcasts" written by Mrs. Helen Harlick.

Miss Melinda Waldele and Philip Crank dressed as angels led Miss Martha Hildebrandt for the finale.

Chamber to Hear Feasibility of Area Golf Course

The feasibility of establishing a public golf course in the Town of Saugerties will be pointed out in an address by Col. Harry Eckhoff, noted golf expert, at the Wednesday meeting of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce at 8 p. m. in the Flamingo Restaurant.

Col. Eckhoff, eastern field representative for the National Golf Foundation will emphasize his talk with the showing of the foundation's color film "Community Planning Gets a Golf Course."

The appearance of Col. Eckhoff at the meeting was made possible through the efforts of Dr. Irving Dreishpoon, chairman of the public golf course committee of the Chamber. Dr. Dreishpoon has been working many months on the project gathering information and searching for possible sites in the Town of Saugerties.

Final arrangements for the annual dinner of the Chamber to be held Tuesday, March 31 at the Flamingo, will also be discussed. Mrs. Joan Feldman, social activities chairman in charge of arrangements will make the report.

Katsbaan Holds Two-Game Lead In Dart League

Katsbaan with a 2 to 1 win over American Legion held its two-game lead in Saugerties Dartball League following Monday night's games.

The second and third teams changed positions as Centerville lost two games to Veteran while Service Center's blanked Ruby, Glasco AC and Cementon in their victories hold a fourth place tie. The AC's stopped West Camp 2 to 1 and Cementon whitewashed Trinity 3 to 0.

Other scores: Glasco Fire Company 2, Centerville Fire Company 1; Quarryville 3, Service Center A's 0, and Cedar Grove 2, Mt. Marion 1.

The rescheduled league meeting to discuss plans for the annual banquet and play-off games will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. at Centerville Methodist Church Hall. At least two representatives of each team should be present.

Cementon Postmaster's Examination Scheduled

Applications for a competitive examination for the position of postmaster at Cementon will be mailed to U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Full information and instructions for filing may be obtained at the Cementon post office.

The position became vacant on January 1 when Henry W. Johnson, postmaster for over 20 years retired.

Albert E. Johnson has been acting postmaster since that time.

The starting salary for the post is $4,620.

The written test will be given at Kingston on a date to be announced.

Town Notes

John Hutchinson, 162 Market Street, Saugerties, was one of the delegates from all parts of New York State present at the weekend state convention of the Socialist Labor Party, held in the Fraternal Clubhouse, 110 West 48th Street, New York City. Mr. Hutchinson reported on his Socialist activities in the Catskill Mountain area.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stykos of 255 Main Street, Saugerties, recently returned from a month's vacation at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Nicholas Pavlovich of Cementon is convalescing at his home after 10 days at Kingston Hospital where he underwent surgery.

5 Villages Ballot Today; Candidates In 2 Unopposed

Village elections are being held today in the five incorporated villages of Ulster County. In three of the villages there will be contests—Rosendale, Pine Hill and Ellenville. In New Paltz and Saugerties the candidates will run unopposed.

Rosendale will hold its election in the Rosendale Fire Hall from 5 to 9 p. m.

Pine Hill will hold its election in the Pine Hill Fire Hall from 1 to 5 p. m.

Ellenville will hold its election from noon to 8 p. m. at the Methodist Church basement, Canal Street.

Saugerties, where Mayor George P. Holmes will be unopposed, election will be at the Municipal Building on Partition Street from noon to 9 p. m.

New Paltz voters will cast the ballots from 3 to 7 p. m. in the trustees rooms of the Municipal Building on Plattekill Avenue.

Engineers Group Slates Ladies' Night Saturday

Catskill Region Chapter 151, American Society of Tool Engineers, will hold its first annual ladies' night and installation of officers Saturday 7 p. m. at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties Road.

Guest speaker will be John Herron, instructor in Dale Carnegie courses. His topic will be "Effective Speaking—The Key to Leadership."

Officers to be installed are: John Kelly of Electrol Inc., chairman; Arthur Richter, of IBM first vice chairman; Andrew Kearney, of Rotron Manufacturing Company, second vice chairman; Andrew Horvath of IBM, secretary, and George Berk of Graphic Techniques, treasurer.

Reservations for the dinner may be made with chairman of the dinner committee Bernard Martin of Cedar Lane, Hurley Heights or committee members Victor Patience of RD 1, Box 95, Kingston or Andrew Horvath of West Hurley.

Membership in the organization is open to those associated with the field of tool engineering in area industry.

Macmillan Victor Over Suez Censure

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's regime Monday night beat back a new Labor party attempt to bring down the government with a motion to censure its handling of the aftermath of the 1956 Suez invasion.

Amid Laborite jeers, the House of Commons voted 300-230 against the censure motion. A government motion to approve the agreement with the United Arab Republic settling financial claims from the invasion then carried without a formal vote.

Sarah Josepha Hale wrote "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and published it in her famous book of children's verses in 1830.

Erie Railroad Spur Nets Only $75 Revenue

NEW YORK (AP)—Erie Railroad passenger revenues last year totaled $75.95 on its service between Port Jervis, N. Y., and Susquehanna, Pa., while wages for only the engineers and trainmen amounted to $9,738, it was testified today at a Public Service Commission hearing.

The hearing was held on the Erie's petition to discontinue the 104.3-mile service, which operates only in July and August. Only two trains are involved on the line the Erie seeks to drop.

Notre Dame Has 20 PC Enrollment Of Irish Lineage

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—How in the name of St. Patrick can Notre Dame be called the home of the Irish?

A question like this is a natural reaction to the school's football lineups over the past several seasons.

But Notre Dame has approximately 3,300 students who do not play football. And of these, at least 20 per cent can trace their ancestry back to the Emerald Isle.

The common last name on campus is Murphy. Forty-two students answer to it, as well as four faculty members and the director of public information.

There are 125 undergraduates whose names begin with O'. Among them are 20 O'Connors and 19 O'Briens.

Some parts of the student directory read like the tax rolls at Dublin. No less than 37 Ryans, 26 Kellys and a dozen Burkes. And if ever they should form a band, perhaps one of the half-dozen McNamaras could lead it.

Rummage Sale

A rummage sale will be conducted by Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday and Friday from 9 to 5 p. m. at the chapter house, Green and Crown Streets.

AEC Pretender Seized by FBI At County Hotel

Ronald Charles Roman, 48, was arrested by agents of the FBI on Monday at a hotel near Kerhonkson where he was employed as a carpenter, H. G. Foster, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, reported today.

A federal indictment was returned in Manhattan in which Roman was charged with falsely pretending to be an employee of the Atomic Energy Commission and acting as such, had obtained a thing of value.

Roman had been released on $500 bail and had failed to appear to plead to the indictment on July 9, 1958. He faces a maximum penalty of three years prison and a $1,000 fine if convicted. Following the arrest, Roman was taken before U. S. Commissioner Thomas Saccaman and committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of bail. He is being held in jail awaiting arrival of a U. S. Marshal.

There are 62 counties in New York state.
